Cobb Pushes Speed Record Over 350 M.P.H.

Londoner Smashes Eyston's Mark by Five Miles at Utah

Battle to Go On

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—Wealthy John R. Cobb of London usurped the world's automobile speed throne today with a mark of 350.2 miles per hour.

He smashed the record of 345.49 miles per hour established here August 27 by Capt. George E. T. Eyston, retired British army officer.

Cobb, a new man at high speed racing, flashed through the measured mile at 353.29 going north and 347.16 on the southward jaunt.

Eyston's average for the north run was 347.49 and for the south 343.51.

EYSTON TOMORROW

Eyston has announced he will run tomorrow, thereby continuing his costly and hazardous duel at speeds in the six miles a minute class. The former officer watched his record fall while flying along the course.

His seven-ton "thunderbolt" with a remodeled nose and tail to perfect the streamlining, has been ready 10 days.

Cobb's permit expired this morning, leaving the captain, who hoisted the record from 301.295 to 311.42 last November, a clear path for an attempt to regain his lost honors.

Cobb, his black and aluminum-colored racer thundering through the mile at a clip until recently believed impossible, was timed at 10.19 seconds for the north mile compared with Eyston's 10.36 and at 10.37 for the return sprint, compared with Eyston's 10.48.

Cobb's second average was 10.28; Eyston's 10.42.

KILOMETRE MARK

The big Englishman also shattered the kilometre record with an average of 350.07 miles per hour, compared with Eyston's mark of 345.21.

The millionaire fur broker was jubilant. His aides disclosed he would remain here with his "Railton" and make further runs if Eyston regains the record.

As to his sensations, said Cobb: "I just kept going faster and faster until it seemed the car couldn't stand more. My vision was blurred. I could hardly see anything at all."

"It's a relief when you pass out of the mile and you can let up on the throttle. It's a comfortable feeling."

Cobb said he had had the car at full throttle.

"She's got more speed than I," he said. "The car dragged just a little. I'd have been faster, I believe, if the track had been firmer."

U.B.C. Welcomes 600 Freshmen

VANCOUVER (CP)—Six hundred freshmen had their first taste of college life at the University of British Columbia today when they gathered in the auditorium to hear addresses of welcome by President L. S. Kilinc and Carson Maguire, student council president.

Senior students then took the newcomers on an inspection tour of buildings on the Point Grey campus.

New Education Upkeep Urged

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—The Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention here today urged the provincial government to take over the entire burden of current education costs with the understanding that municipalities would continue to provide the necessary school accommodation, and that local school boards continue to function as heretofore, with adequate provincial government representation on such boards.

The resolution arose from recommendations from Kelowna, Surrey, Langley and Matsqui.

On recommendation of Reeve W. Crouch, chairman of the board of arbitration, a committee of five will be appointed by the convention to investigate the question of residence and responsibility problems with the provincial government.

The resolution from Okanagan Valley and Salmon Arm, asking for a reduction of pension age limit to 65 years instead of 70 was adopted, as was a resolution from Pitt Meadows and the Union of Kootenay Municipalities for restoration of the 7 cents per gallon refund on gasoline tax on fuel used for municipal equipment in road-building operations.

A Richmond resolution asking more specific rulings regarding costs involved through deaths of persons not resident in a municipality, was approved in principle and the U.B.C.M. solicitor will be asked to submit a brief to Victoria.

A proposal that municipal officers meet once a year in Victoria for the purpose of meeting heads of various government departments to clarify matters of doubt, was adopted.

REBUILDING AT FORBES LANDING

New Island Hotel to Cost $25,000; Larger Than Burned Structure

Reconstruction of Forbes Landing Hotel, destroyed by Vancouver Island's great forest fire this summer, will be proceeded with immediately, it was announced today by Hubert Savage, local architect, who has been instructed by J. Forbes, the owner, to prepare the plans.

The new hotel, it is understood, will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000.

The plans call for a two story building with full basement. The accommodation will include 20 guest bedrooms, a large lounge, dining room and kitchen, and a private suite for the owner.

The interior will be finished with local woods, the exterior being Tudor in style.

The work of excavating for the foundations has already been started.

"NEW HAVEN" IS NAME OF SCHOOL

Four persons will divide a $50 prize offered by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer for the name of the government's new Borstal training unit for first offenders in Burnaby.

The name of the institution will be "New Haven." This was selected from hundreds of suggestions sent to the Attorney-General.

The four persons who picked this name will receive $12.50 each. They are: James D. Syme, 1576 Yale Street, Oak Bay; Miss Lorna Wright, 3312 Royal Oak Avenue, Burnaby; Mrs. John Richards, 3221 West 11th Avenue, Vancouver, and Miss J. Margaret Dawson, 120 St. Paul Street West, Kamloops.

CENTRE OF WORLD INTEREST—Above are glimpses of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's country home near Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, where Prime Minister Chamberlain and he today had the first of their talks on the European crisis and possible steps to end it and reinforce peace. The Bavarian Alps which form the setting of the house are seen in the background.

All Dominions Aid Britain

Support Sure in Any General Outbreak, Say Delegates at Commonwealth Relations Conference at Sydney, N.S.W.

Written for the Canadian Press By PROF. NORMAN A. M. MACKENZIE

SYDNEY, N.S.W.—The United Kingdom is assured of the support of all the Dominions in case of any general conflagration, delegates to the British Commonwealth Relations Conference declared today as discussion centred on the crisis in Europe.

British delegates to the unofficial and private conference were anxious to know what Britain could expect from the Dominions. Complete support of Australia and New Zealand would be forthcoming from those commonwealth countries, their representatives said.

Canadian delegates felt Canada could not remain neutral, while South Africa and Irish delegates considered circumstances would force them into any world war on the side of Britain.

Opinion among the delegates as to whether South Africa and Ireland actually now had the right to neutrality if the United Kingdom became engaged in war. The fact they had not publicly informed foreign countries of such a change in their status was considered important in light of the rules of international law.

POSITION OF U.S.

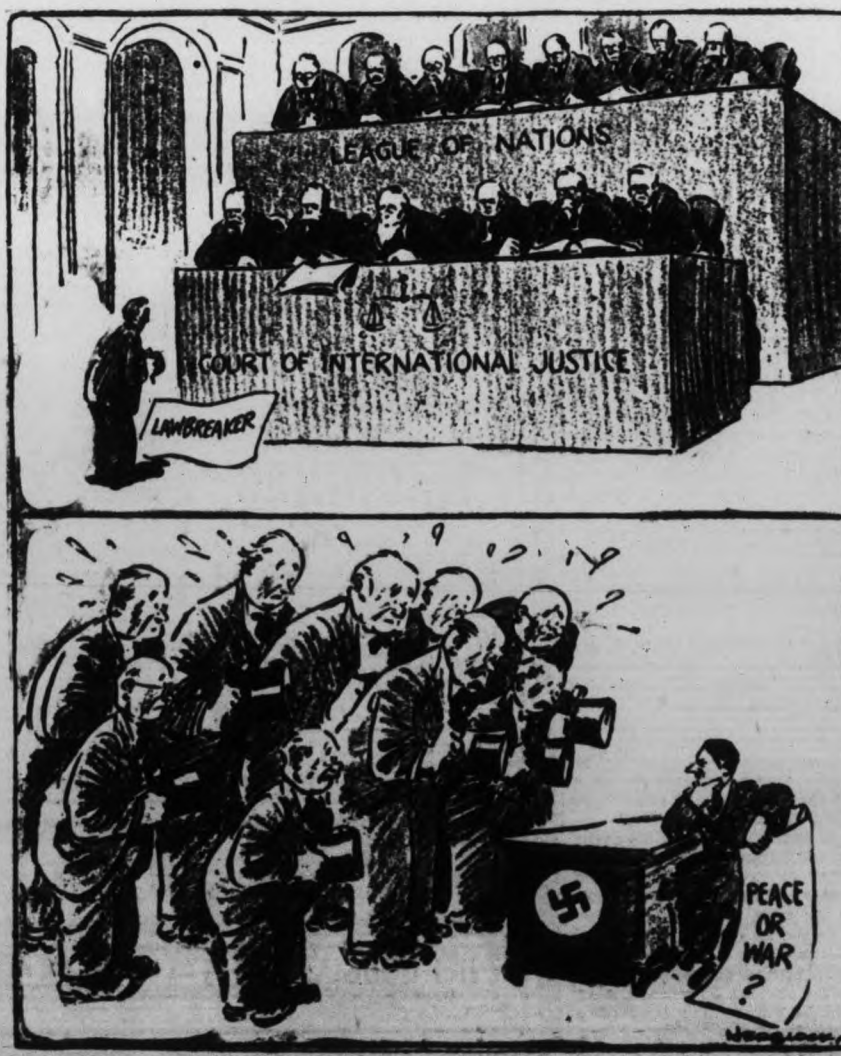

In a discussion of United States relations with Britain, delegates agreed Britain had no plans or preparations which envisaged the United States in any opposing combination of nations.

Several obstacles were seen, however, to closer co-operation between the United States and the United Kingdom and the British commonwealth.

These included the U.S. tradition of isolation, the war debts question, sectional antipathy to England, suspicion of the foreign policy of the British National Government, anti-American feeling and expression among Britishers and refusal of the American people to believe the American people would necessarily support the U.S. administration.

Suggested measures of co-operation were an arbitration treaty, some settlement of war debts and a better British information service in the United States.

Things Haven't Worked Out Exactly as Planned

Lloyds Cancel War Insurance

Contracts to End and No New Ones Unless Negotiated

LONDON (AP)—Lloyds, the underwriters, decided today to give 48 hours' notice of the termination of all war risk insurance contracts.

All past contracts contained provision for such notice. The notice is to be effective at midnight tonight.

Midnight Saturday is the deadline after which there will be no war risk insurance coverage except through negotiation in individual instances, which is expected to result in high rates.

A joint war risk rating committee of other companies and Lloyds yesterday discontinued an official schedule of war risk rates.

Insurance circles have been confused in recent weeks over war risks. Some brokers found their rates were so far out of line with other brokers the whole structure of rates had become meaningless.

Today's action concerned mainly marine insurance, since land property war risks were discontinued some time ago.

U.S. Watches Talks By Chamberlain

Cordell Hull Says Conference With Hitler Interests All Peace-lovers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is watching the Chamberlain-Hitler conversations with "the greatest interest," State Secretary Hull said at his press conference today.

Permitting direct quotations, a rare occurrence, he declared:

"The historic conference today between the Prime Minister of Great Britain and the Chancellor of Germany is naturally being observed with the greatest interest by all nations which are deeply concerned with the preservation of peace."

Mr. Hull said he would see President Roosevelt tonight at the railway station on his arrival here from Rochester, Minn.

He said he had been in telephone communication with the President this morning, and imparted to him the latest news from Europe.

Chamberlain-Hitler Proposal Reported

Henlein's Arrest Ordered

Czech Cabinet Instructs Sudeten Leader Be Jailed, But He Is Reported in Germany

PRAGUE (AP)—The Czechoslovak Cabinet Council tonight ordered the arrest on treason charges of Konrad Henlein, militant leader of the Sudeten German minority.

But Henlein, who this afternoon issued a proclamation demanding annexation of the Sudeten regions by Nazi Germany, was reported to be in the Reich.

Apparently was out of reach of Czechoslovak law.

His exact whereabouts unknown, the "little fuehrer" of the Sudeten minority was reported on his way to Munich.

The Cabinet Council's action came after several hours' close study of Henlein's proclamation, which declared that the Sudeten "want to return to their home in the Reich."

The announcement, issued after termination of their tea-time conference, said:

"Chancellor Hitler and British Prime Minister Chamberlain had an extended, frank exchange of views on the present situation."

"The Prime Minister is returning tomorrow to Great Britain to confer with the British cabinet. Within a few days a new conversation will take place."

Thus the tall spokesman for Great Britain will repeat his precedent-breaking flight 4 for face-to-face talks with the German Fuehrer on which hinge Europe's hopes of peace and fears of war.

STAY AT HOTEL

Mr. Chamberlain left Hitler's Alpine chalet shortly before 8 p.m. (11 a.m. P.S.T.) after a three-hour conference.

The Prime Minister and his entourage returned to their headquarters at the Grand Hotel, where orders were given to serve supper.

From London to Munich by plane, from Munich to Berchtesgaden in an explosion-proof train, and from Berchtesgaden to the Fuehrer's mountain home in four high-powered German automobiles, Mr. Chamberlain and his party sped to the momentous conference arranged only yesterday at the Prime Minister's request.

Mr. Chamberlain smiled broadly as he was received by the Fuehrer in the rain. They went inside the chalet and sat down almost immediately to tea.

Then the two statesmen were understood to have withdrawn to Hitler's private office. A waiting world could not learn immediately just what was going on.

Victorian Pilots Chamberlain Plane

Comdr. Charles Pelly, Educated Here, Has Charge of Peace Flight

LONDON (CP)—Commander Charles Pelly, senior pilot of Prime Minister Chamberlain's "peace" plane, on its flight to Germany, was once a resident of Victoria, B.C., where he received his early education.

Commander Pelly is the senior commander of British Airways and has flown more than 1,000,000 miles on the company's European routes, including the night mail to Berlin. He served with the Royal Air Force in Egypt in 1931 and for three successive years held the officers' lightweight boxing championship of the Royal Air Force. He was born in India in 1908.

B.C.-ALASKA ROAD OBSTACLES SEEN

U.S. Secretary of Interior Says Financing Is Still Major Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Ickes of the United States Interior Department said today many difficulties, including a possible lack of interest by the Canadian government, were delaying plans for an international highway between the United States and Alaska.

He told his weekly press conference there had been no recent change in the status of the proposed project.

"I don't think much interest is being shown at Ottawa," the Secretary said.

He added no practical plans for construction of the road had been worked out. Problems, he said, included a method of financing the portion through British Columbia.

CALL BROADCAST

The proclamation was broadcast through Germany and was transmitted to the Czechoslovak government by Henlein.

It was issued at Eger, near the German frontier, just a few hours before Great Britain's Prime Minister, Neville Chamberlain, started his talk with Chancellor Hitler of Germany on the Sudeten crisis.

Shortly after the proclamation was transmitted a general strike was called at Reichenberg, fourth largest industrial centre in the country and six miles from the German frontier.

Reports received in Prague said all stores were closed and all business activities halted. There were no editions of evening newspapers.

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—Sixteen passengers and the driver of an interstate bus bound from Boston to New York escaped to safety today while fire destroyed the vehicle, which had halted to take on gasoline. The loss was estimated at $15,000.

Henlein Call Brings Answer

PRAGUE (AP)—An official statement late today said the inner council of the cabinet had considered the proclamation in which Konrad Henlein demanded German annexation of the Sudeten areas of Czechoslovakia and that the government had decided on "such a course as the situation demands."

MORE TROOPS SENT

Meanwhile, the government dispatched more troops and tanks to suppress disorders in the Sudeten regions, the death toll of which was not yet fully known. The figure of 23 was fixed by the government, which is publishing its tabulations only after careful investigation. It appeared certain that many lives were lost, and many more wounded in the fighting along the 125-mile Sudeten border. Lists of casualties in numerous clashes appeared in newspapers.

Three new areas brought under martial law are Reichenberg, Kumburk and Stuknow. Reichenberg is one of Czechoslovakia's largest Sudeten cities. It is the centre of the Bohemian textile industry.

Henlein's proclamation assailed methods used by the Czechoslovak government in efforts to crush disorders.

It declared:
"I proclaim to the whole world that the use of machine guns, armored cars and tanks against defenceless Sudeten Germans has reached the highest points of Czech oppression."

He said it was his duty to declare:

"In the year 1919 we were denied the promised right of self-determination and against our wills were forced into the Czech state."

"Without at any time renouncing our right for self-determination, we have attempted, by giving frequent sacrifices, to find a proper place in the Czech state."

"All our efforts to persuade the Czech people and its responsible leaders to make honorable and just compromises have failed because of their irreconcilability."

WISH TO BE FREE

"In this hour of Sudeten German extremity I direct to you, the German people and the entire civilized world:

"We wish to live as free German men! We want to work at peace in our homes! We want to return to our home in the Reich."

"Stop this rebellion before it becomes a European conflict," were instructions to the army, the police and the gendarmerie.

Italian Moves in Canada Scored

Ontario Labor Council Urges Inquiry Into Consuls' Activities

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Circulars were placed before the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today by the Essex County Trades and Labor Council (Windsor, Ont.) calling for investigation of "activities of Italian consuls in Canada."

The circulars were in the form of a petition to Prime Minister King. It said satisfactory proof had been given "as to activities of Italian Fascist organization in this country, operating under direct authority and in the pay of the Italian government."

It demanded that the Canadian government:

1. Investigate activities of Italian consuls in Canada.
2. Prohibit drilling, whether with or without arms, of Fascist or any other political organization.
3. Prohibit operation of Fascist schools whereby loyalty to the Italian government and Mussolini is being taught Canadian children.
4. Discharge from the public service any persons guilty of advocating allegiance to a foreign power.
5. Prohibit the wearing of uniforms by political organizations.

Attention of the congress convention was called to the circulars, but there was no debate.

Special Court In Sudeten Town

Report 40 Czech
Policemen Taken as Prisoners Into Germany

PRAGUE (AP)—It appeared probable that before the end of the day the government, bent on swift action, would convene one of the special courts provided by martial law at Eger, Sudeten stronghold where officers encountered machine-gun fire as they tried to capture a sniper in the Victoria Hotel.

The courts are empowered to impose death sentences to be executed within two hours. Both Eger and Schwaderbach, where bitter fighting took place yesterday, were quiet save for military patrols early this morning.

Yesterday's fighting with machine guns, hand grenades and tanks, besides rifles and pistols, was severest at Eger and Schwaderbach.

POLICE PRISONERS

Late last night the authorities announced the reoccupation of the town of Schwaderbach. The Sudeten had retired into Germany, it was said, taking 40 captured Czech gendarmes with them.

Government reports did not give definite figures on casualties in the action, but private reports said 11 died.

Czechoslovak police told of occupying the Sudeten German party regional headquarters at Eger, three miles from the German line, and capturing a quantity of arms and machine guns of German manufacture after a battle with machine guns and armored cars.

Soviet's View of Chamberlain Talks

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet army newspaper Red Star declared today Prime Minister Chamberlain's policy was not only to make an agreement with an aggressor but also to help liquidate a democratic state (Czechoslovakia) in the centre of Europe.

The Prime Minister, Red Star said, is "using Czechoslovakia as a small change in striking a bargain with Hitler."

Comsomol Pravda, young communist organ, declared British Conservatives, "blinded by their class interests, are paving the way for German Fascist aggression in Europe."

Senator Named Despite Purge

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Unofficial returns from yesterday's Democratic primary this afternoon showed United States Senator Walter F. George re-elected in the face of presidential opposition.

At 1 p.m., tabulation showed the senate veteran leading in the complete count from 71 of the state's 159 counties with 206 of the 410 unit votes in his column.

Unusual Scenes At Hitler's Home

Chamberlain Welcomed
By Hitler at Door Before Talks Begin

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany (AP)—When Mr. Chamberlain arrived today after his dash from London by plane and train in his precedent-breaking personal effort to keep Europe out of war, Reichsfuehrer Hitler, as rain fell, welcomed him at the entrance of his mountain retreat.

Smiling broadly, looking hearty, Mr. Chamberlain had stepped down from a special train in this picturesque little Bavarian Alpine town at 4.02 p.m. (7.02 a.m. P.S.T.).

His glowing, confident appearance imparted anything but a gloomy outlook to the tremendous task he faced in his conference with Hitler on the Czechoslovak crisis.

The rain which had fallen intermittently during the day poured down as Mr. Chamberlain moved slowly along the station platform. He was surrounded by groups of German officials, S.S. (Blackshirt) elite guards, and police.

Despite the downpour, Mr. Chamberlain did not bother to take the rolled umbrella he carried over his arm.

CHEERED BY CROWD

Gayly he doffed his hat as a crowd of thousands, mostly under umbrellas, "helled" again and again.

Dr. Otto Meissner, Chief of the Chancellery, greeted the Prime Minister at the station. Accompanying Mr. Chamberlain were Joachim von Ribbentrop, German Foreign Minister; Sir Neville Henderson, British Ambassador to Germany, and Henderson's two aides from the British Foreign Office, Sir Horace John Wilson and William Strang.

The party wasted no time. As the crowd cheered, Hitler's personal car whisked Mr. Chamberlain off to the Grand Hotel, scheduled to be his headquarters. Then after a brief stop the party drove the remaining eight miles to Hitler's home, Berghof on Obersalzberg.

Originally Mr. Chamberlain had planned to fly from Munich to Freilassing air field near Berchtesgaden, but inclement weather forced a change in plans and the party took a train from Munich, where the Prime Minister had landed by airplane at 12.30 p.m. from London.

ENJOYED TRIP

A master stage manager, Hitler left nothing undone to make Mr. Chamberlain's drive from the station to Berghof a noteworthy one. Four Mercedes cars were placed at the disposal of the British party.

As Mr. Chamberlain drove up the steep, super-highway, he was said to have praised the beautiful scenery. He also expressed surprise at the ease with which the cars climbed the steep road, which rises from Berchtesgaden's level to the villa's 3,300 feet.

The Fuehrer stood in the broad door of the villa as the cars approached. Then he walked down the steps and greeted his guests with cordial handshakes.

DECLARATION FOR LABOR HARMONY

Debate on C.I.O. Fails to Develop at Canadian Congress Session

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—A long expected debate on unity in the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada failed to materialize today as the Congress adopted a proposal that the executive be instructed to continue its efforts to maintain harmony within the international trade union movement in Canada.

Canadian labor thus avoided a split over the presence in the Congress of Committee for Industrial Organization unions whose corresponding unions in the United States had their charters revoked by the American Federation of Labor.

Carl Berg of Edmonton, chairman of the resolutions committee, submitted the resolution, which declared "the door to agreement" between the A.F. of L. and C.I.O. still remained open.

Elmer Roper of Edmonton asked what confidence could be placed in the new executive to deal with the situation.

President P. M. Draper resented "the slurs" cast by Roper on the executive and added "you must trust the executive."

It was to the executive's credit, said Mr. Draper, that the "fraternal" labor strife in the United States had not spread to Canada in the same degree.

Policy of establishing federal unions—those without international affiliations—had not been a success, President Draper said in commenting later on a resolution from Winnipeg and district trades and labor council.

Railroad Pay Cut In U.S. October 1

CHICAGO (AP)—More than 900,000 railroad employees were formally advised today their pay cheques would become 15 per cent slimmer at 12.01 a.m. Saturday, October 1.

Announcement of the effective day of the cut originally was made by the Carriers' Joint Conference committee September 10. The committee said the action of the individual railroads today in advising representatives of each employee organization of the order was follow-up.

The railroad workers are taking a strike vote this month, following collapse of efforts to mediate the wage dispute.

New Customs Act Drafted at Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Complete revision of the Customs Act will be one of the outstanding matters with which parliament will have to deal next session. Already an interdepartmental committee, headed by H. D. Scully, commissioner of customs, has completed a draft of a wholly rewritten act.

Hon. J. L. Halsey, Revenue Minister, it is understood, will place the draft before the cabinet, with the suggestion that Canadian industry generally be consulted before final approval is given and the legislation presented to parliament. This plan would be in line with the policy adopted some years ago when the iron and steel schedules of the tariff were overhauled. On that occasion extensive hearings were held by the old Tariff Advisory Board

Send-off For Chamberlain

Crowd at Airport Shouts Encouragement to Prime Minister as He Leaves for Visit to Hitler in Effort to End Europe's Crisis

By JAMES RESTON
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON — Prime Minister Chamberlain, in the boldest diplomatic move of modern history, flew to Germany today for conversations with Chancellor Hitler which may preserve the peace of the world.

Wearing a dark grey overcoat and grey hat, and carrying the inevitable rolled umbrella, the Premier entered a big Lockheed plane which took off from Heston airport at 8.35 a.m. (11.35 last night, P.S.T.).

(Mr. Chamberlain arrived at Berchtesgaden at 4.02 p.m. and was driven by motor to Hitler's residence.)

It was the first time in his life the 69-year-old Premier had flown and he passed through rain and fog over parts of France and Germany.

He said before he left, of the dramatic 610-mile flight he was making:

"I am going to see the German Chancellor because the situation seems to me to be one in which discussions between him and myself may have useful consequences."

"The Fuehrer's reply to my suggestion encourages me to hope that my visit to him will not be without results."

SUPPORT OF U.S.

Some quarters said the United States ambassador, Joseph P. Kennedy, had conveyed to Mr. Chamberlain a feeling he had the moral support of the United States.

The Premier slipped from his 10 Downing Street residence at 7.50 a.m. Only authorized persons were permitted in the little street because of reports Communists planned to demonstrate against his flight to see the Nazi leader.

The Communists had prepared leaflets proclaiming "Chamberlain should fly to Benes (Czechoslovak President), not to Hitler," but only a few demonstrators appeared. They scattered the leaflets in Whitehall, from which Downing Street leads.

KING REACHES LONDON

At almost the same time, Chamberlain left 10 Downing, King George arrived at Euston Station from Balmoral, Scotland, the international crisis having caused him to return to London ahead of his schedule. The Premier, however, was unable to talk with the King before departing.

His two aides on the vital trip were with the Premier. They were Sir Horace Wilson, 36, and William Strang, 45, head of the Foreign Office's central European department.

Before they left, the three were greeted at Heston airport by Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary; Herr Hordt, German charge d'affaires, and Baron von Selzan, German embassy first secretary.

Lord Borchet, who flew from Nuremberg to tell the premier his impressions of a recent visit he had with Hitler, talked briefly with Mr. Chamberlain.

Herr Hordt shook Mr. Chamberlain's hand and congratulated him on his "magnanimous initiative" and wished him God speed.

CROWD AT AIRPORT

Cars lined the roads surrounding the airport and people crushed at the gates. The crowds, breaking away to make room for the plane, shouted "good luck" and "well done" and "stand by Czechoslovakia."

The Premier showed no nervousness as the ship swung around for the takeoff.

Mr. Chamberlain was understood to have the backing of the Socialist and Liberal opposition to his Conservative government, and the unanimous support of the cabinet.

As the head of the German state and the Premier of democratic Britain prepared to confer, the cabinet ministers and heads of government departments held a conference at 11 a.m. at the offices of the Committee of Imperial Defence.

Among them were Viscount Halifax, Sir Kingsley Wood, Air Secretary; Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary; Leslie Hore-Belisha, War Secretary, and Viscount Gort, Chief of Staff.

Sir John Simon left the meeting and went to Buckingham Palace to report on developments. He gave the King a full account of the situation during an audience which lasted an hour and 25 minutes.

A specially summoned meeting of Labor leaders discussed the situation for three hours.

Conviction Found to Have Been Error

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in the B.C. Supreme Court yesterday quashed the conviction of Max de Physter of Kelowna, B.C., on a charge of infraction of the Co-operative Associations Act.

De Physter, manager of the Southern Holding Company, Kelowna, was convicted of breaking a marketing contract with the Southern Okanagan Vegetable Growers' Co-operative Association by entering into a lease with Pete Borbely of Oliver, B.C.

The conviction was set aside on the grounds it had not been proved that any sale of vegetables took place contrary to the act.

Want Relief Load Lifted

B.C. Municipalities Contend Unemployment Federal Issue

NELSON, B.C. (CP) — The union of British Columbia Municipalities contends in a resolution passed yesterday that unemployment relief should be a federal responsibility, but urges the provincial government to assume its cost if the Dominion Government fails to take action.

The union urges provincial action in assuming relief costs to remove "this unfair burden from real estate," and suggests the cost could be met by collection of a special tax.

Other resolutions passed yesterday as proposed by various municipalities are:

Surrey: That the government again be requested to set up a public utilities commission.

Dawson Creek: That power be provided to allow for grants for airport purposes.

LOUDSPEAKERS
Duncan: Urging that municipal councils be given power to regulate and control the use of loudspeakers and sound amplifiers.

Richmond: Seeking power to prohibit the peddling of meat.

Langley: Urging enactment of legislation for protection of the cascara tree.

Pentiction: That the Plant Protection Act be brought into line with other provincial statutes, and amended so that licenses required by the act shall be in addition to all licenses required under any other act.

Revelstoke: Urging that declarations may be made before clerks of the municipality as well as justices of the peace.

Alberni: That the department of education be requested to forward amounts due for teachers' salaries by the end of each month in order to avoid delay in payments.

LINE ASSESSMENT

Mission: That villages require the same basis of assessment of pole line, cables and wires, as municipalities.

Mission: That mains and pole lines of any gas or water company on a public highway shall be deemed to be land and shall be assessed as such at the rate of 40 cents per running foot.

Kelowna: That the government program of moving groups of unemployed so that they become charges of municipalities be stopped, and that no lease or grant of any foreshore within or adjoining the boundary of a municipality shall be made by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council without having first obtained consent of the municipal council.

West Vancouver: That no private school shall be established unless the proprietors first satisfy the provincial authorities that the standard of education and the management are acceptable to said authorities, and will be subject to periodical inspection by the said department; that the practice of issuing trades licenses annually or semi-annually, be optional.

A resolution was also adopted giving life membership to past presidents of the union during the last 20 years.

VICTORIA MOVES KILLED

Three resolutions were turned down.

One was from Saanich requesting the repeal of Section 248 of the Municipal Act providing for levying of water rates against land and sale of the same for taxes; another from Victoria urging that only elected representatives duly appointed as delegates be entitled to vote at conventions of the union, and the third, also from Victoria, urging amendment of Section 221 of the Municipal Act adding to sub-paragraph "E" "and all land and improvements owned by any municipality and held or occupied by or for the use of an agricultural society or association."

CALGARY (CP)—Rev. S. E. Lambert, O.B.E., of Toronto, was re-elected president of the Amputations Association of the Great War at the closing session of the annual convention here yesterday afternoon. For many years he has been padre of the Christie Street Hospital for crippled ex-servicemen in Toronto.

ACQUITTED AT VANCOUVER
VANCOUVER (CP) — An assize court jury yesterday acquitted David Lariviere, 28, of a charge of wilfully breaking a window in the British Columbia employment bureau building here. He was arrested a few minutes after the window had been broken June 19 following eviction of unemployed men from the central post office and the Civic Art Gallery.

Soviets Unmoved By Japan Charge

GENEVA (AP)—Foreign Commissioner Maxim Litvinoff of Soviet Russia refused to comment on a Japanese Foreign Office spokesman's statement blaming the Czechoslovak crisis on "admiral" for Germany's position.

Other Russian delegates to the League of Nations voiced the opinion yesterday that Japan's sympathy with Germany "is no news to us," and asked:

"Why should we maintain separate far eastern armies if we didn't know that?"

Russian sources interpreted the Tokyo statement as a confirmation of their conviction that the anti-Commintern pact between Germany, Japan and Italy contained a secret military clause aimed against the Soviet Union.

ALBERTA BRIEF NOT FOR ROWELL BOARD

Aberhart Sees No Useful Purpose in Giving Statement to Commission

EDMONTON (CP)—Premier Aberhart of Alberta has informed Prime Minister King no useful purpose could be served in turning over the Alberta brief on Dominion-provincial relations to the Rowell royal commission.

Mr. Aberhart sent an accompanying letter with 25 copies of "The Case for Alberta" to the Prime Minister for the "official use of your government" and copies of the letter were issued here today.

Judging from press reports, said the premier, it was indicated the publication of the Alberta brief would result in its submission to the Rowell Commission, which sat in all provinces to hear representations on Dominion-provincial relations.

At Berchtesgaden

BEFORE PRIME MINISTER CHAMBERLAIN left Heston airport for Reichsfuehrer Hitler's Bavarian retreat—on the most crucial mission ever to be undertaken by any British statesman of modern times—Viscount Halifax, the Foreign Secretary, said: "What a fine morning! Perhaps it is a good omen." It was a fine morning here in Victoria, too, and the people of this community, in common with the whole world, are hoping that the two representatives of democracy and autocracy will discover common ground on which to erect a structure of hope and inspiration—of lasting value to mankind.

Whatever one may think of the antecedents of the developments of the last few months, whatever estimate the historian may place upon the quality of statesmanship of the two decades which have elapsed since the noise of battle was quelled on that November day of 1918, the outstanding and significant fact impressing the world today is that a Prime Minister of Great Britain has gone post-haste to plead the cause of reason and justice with a man of whom that world had heard nothing until long after the present leader of the British Government had established himself in public life. The atmosphere of the Bavarian Alps, Nature in all her majesty and invincibility, should be more conducive to that spirit of moderation and calm than either London or Berlin. Generations unborn may yet find it possible to train their thoughts on Berchtesgaden with thankfulness.

Nor is it inappropriate to recall Great Britain's efforts toward peace since the present Prime Minister's brother, the late Sir Austen Chamberlain, signed the Locarno Pacts in the Foreign Office in Downing Street on December 1, 1925. Combined with her lead in practical disarmament, one of her ablest statesmen, Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, presided over the Disarmament Conference when it opened its deliberations in 1932. It was by no means Britain's fault that this gathering strayed onto the wrong track and resolved itself, to all intents and purposes, into an armament conference. The naval agreement with Germany was part of an ameliorative formula with which she sought to placate her former adversary—still smarting under the ignominy which the Treaty of Versailles originally had imposed upon the Teutonic nations.

These and other methods of approach to a better understanding among the peoples of Europe still stand to Britain's lasting credit. Nor would any good purpose be served, moreover, by recalling another obvious fact that the situation now confronting Mr. Chamberlain owes a good deal of its origin to the abdication of democracy at Geneva six years ago. Since that time the heads of three totalitarian states—among which Russia cannot be numbered—have undone all the work of Locarno, torn up their solemn pledges, and ignored the Kellogg and other undertakings. The oligarchical ministries at Berlin, Rome, and Tokio, with a pseudo-Communist bee in their bonnets, with neither the moral, economic, nor material capacity to impose their will against a united democratic front, have brought about the spectacle of a British Prime Minister rushing off to plead with a disciple of a brand of imperialism against which the Bismarckian and Hohenzollern philosophies pale into veritable insignificance.

Nor could Mr. Chamberlain, whose loyalty to and belief in his country are beyond reproach, have done other than he has done today. Never let it be supposed, however, that he has gone to Berchtesgaden with any qualms about the temper of his compatriots, with any attitude of mind from which the High Priest of Totalitarianism will be able to extract new fodder for his megalomaniac appetite. The British Prime Minister met the head of Greater Germany today, if we judge matters correctly, to warn him of the consequences that will assail him if he shall press forward with the program laid down in Mein Kampf, as well as to appeal to him in the name of all that is morally right and internationally decent—and, incidentally, in his own interests.

If the Prime Minister succeeds in his mission, it ought to be safe to predict that the inspirational structure of which we already have spoken, will be brought within the orbit of practicalities. The world needs a new "moral climate" and a new mental outlook. To pour out millions in wealth on instruments of destruction, while millions of people are in a state of appalling extremity, is to store up punishment of which we have no conception.

Unearthly Realm

TIBET, POSSIBLY THE REMOTEST AND least real land on the face of the earth for most citizens of this hemisphere, turns up in the news again. The Jaitab, virtual ruler of that land, is dead. Westerners who have any definite notion about Tibet have probably formed it largely from stories concerning the search for a successor to the late Dalai Lama, or from James Hilton's "Lost Horizon."

Tibet, it would seem, is a land populated almost exclusively by monks who spend their lives contemplating the infinite from the tops of mountains. From time to time they strike a brass gong, and now and then they go in for training pigeons to fly with bells attached to their legs. The few laymen in the country are a simple, contented lot who sit around and wait for the Dalai Lama's reincarnation.

But the picture changes as news of the Jaitab's death arrives. It seems there is a bitter campaign for domination of the country. The landed gentry, the young Tibetan Party, the heads of three monasteries, and the army set are brawling like opposing factions in the modernized western world.

"Fled is that music—Do I wake or sleep?"

Ten Years Ago

IN THESE COLUMNS THE OTHER DAY we remarked that the 10th anniversary of the signing of the Kellogg Pact had passed almost unnoticed in the kaleidoscopic events of these times. In the August days of 1928, however, the world really thought differently. They thought perhaps that if the Locarno Pacts required additional support, it would be found in the undertaking on the part of many nations to outlaw war as an "instrument of national policy," the object of the Kellogg Pact. On August 28, 1928, this newspaper said in its editorial:

"This is an age of changes more striking than we sometimes realize. War has been revolutionized in the last few years. And it would require another war to let us into the horrible secrets at which experts have hinted. It has ceased to be a contest between armies and navies, or organized masses on land and sea, with civilian populations for the most part out of harm's way. Another conflict would be one of nation obliterating nation with every kind of death-dealing horror from the skies. Happily for us all, there are other changes. Men's minds are broadening. The radio, the motor car, the airplane, the service club, competitive sport, and many other humanizing agencies have played and will continue to play an important part in the development of an international outlook which will produce international trust and friendship. Treaties will have new meanings. But we must not expect the habits of centuries to be discarded in a day. The ceremony which will take place in Paris on Monday (the signing of the pact), however, will be another important milestone on the way to better things."

Three days afterward the following sentiments found expression in these columns: "Germany and France officially buried the hatchet at Locarno. They put a lot of good soil over it when they signed the multilateral treaty (the Kellogg Pact) last Monday. The peoples of the world demand peace and the fate of civilization depends upon it. All irritating discussions should be dropped."

When Prime Minister Chamberlain and Reichsfuehrer Hitler talked at Berchtesgaden today it is to be hoped the head of the British Government reminded the head of the Nazi state that one of the negotiators of the Locarno Pacts was the late Dr. Gustav Stresemann of Germany, and another was Sir Austen Chamberlain, with former Premier Aristide Briand of France giving of his best all the time.

A couple down the coast has set out on a honeymoon by roller skates. They will probably come down to earth more quickly than most.

Consider the sad case of the lady nudist who complained she could not attend the international convention now on in the east because she didn't have a thing not to wear.

It is to be hoped that none of Hitler's militaristic entourage at Berchtesgaden will try to give Mr. Chamberlain the "third degree" that they administered to Herr Schuschnigg in the same place a few months ago.

Probably it was case of the old saying, "Too many Crooks spoil the soup," in the racketeering evidence presented by District Attorney Dewey against Hines which resulted in the New York hearing being declared a mistrial.

What would the boys fighting in the Great War to make the world safe for democracy have thought if anyone had suggested to them that 20 years later a British Prime Minister would be flying to plead with a ruler of the Germany they were willing to sacrifice their all to down? It is another lesson in the futility of war.

BEHIND THE CONFLICT

From Ottawa Citizen

Chancellor Hitler is supposed to be much concerned with justice for the German minority in the Czech state. The news is constantly about the conflict over "nationalities." Autonomy for the Sudeten Germans is stressed. It is timely to be reminded of the real conflict over economic interests.

A Czech member of Parliament recently said in a Czechoslovak paper: "It is not a question of 'nationalities' in Czechoslovakia but of the Czechoslovak ironworks, coal and metal basins, grain, sugar, meat; of the Hungarian wheat and corn; of the Rumanian petroleum; of the Ukrainian fertile plains; of an access to the Black Sea; of the German Drang nach Osten (thrust towards the East)."

Eventually the nations under democracy as well as under dictatorship will have to make a profound economic readjustment, to meet the demands of Germany, Italy and other disturbers of the peace for greater access to the planet's natural resources. Otherwise the disturbances will go on, or the world will at least remain in a state of hair-trigger tension. Human intelligence must surely find something better than bombers and battleships to maintain civilization through the centuries.

TOYS

THE TOY BUSINESS of the world, they say, is doomed. The trouble is that the average age of the population is getting older. In a few years, judging by the present birth and death curves, most people in the world will be middle-aged or older and the market for toys all over America will be drastically curtailed.

But the wise toy makers are preparing for this emergency. They are going to make toys for grown-ups. They are going to start a campaign to make grown-ups toy-conscious, and it will undoubtedly succeed. As a matter of fact, you can see for yourself at any Christmas season—and one is just ahead, my friends, just ahead—that grown-ups are just as fond of toys as children, and would love to play with them if they weren't a little self-conscious. Already a few bolder spirits among American men have started to collect toy trains and to build elaborate toy railways in their basements, and this is a promising beginning. If toys can only be made fashionable you will find grown-up people collecting them much more avidly than youngsters.

Now this is not a sign of a weak or ignorant mind. It is a sign of a mature, philosophical mind. The mature philosophical mind knows quite well that there is more substance and more sense to most toys than to most of the concerns of daily life. Such a man knows that when he comes home and plays in the basement with his toy train in the evening he is doing something much more sensible than most of the business he has done all day.

Business is mostly abstract, a process of trading chits and documents and symbols of reality. But a toy train is something real, something you can get hold of and enjoy. Thus the toy hobby now spreading among the adults of North America is one of the most hopeful signs in our current civilization. It shows that we still have some sanity left. It shows that we still have some of the child in us, and the child is the only really sensible person, the only true philosopher left.

In Germany now they are keeping their toy industry up to date by manufacturing toy bombs which, when dropped, explode with a loud noise. I predict that they will be a failure. The kids will like them at first but not for long. They'll come back to trains and boats. It's only grown-ups who are crazy enough to enjoy toys like that.

ON LEARNING TO WRITE

WE HAVE NOT read Miss Brenda Ueland's book, "If You Want to Write," but in the Saturday Review of Literature she objects to a review it printed. "Now what I say in my book," she writes, "to those hundreds of thousands of people who want to write is:

"God bless you. Do it. It will do you good. And in order that you will keep it up forever and never get discouraged, remember this: that the rewards are intrinsic. The work, the effort, the search is the important and exciting thing. Then out of the mountains you write, some mole hills will be published. Or you may make a fortune and win the Nobel Prize. But if nothing is ever published at all and you never make a cent, just the same it will be a good thing that you have worked."

"For I know that by writing, people learn more and more to be free, to distinguish what they think, from what they think they should think; and presently they learn never to lie to themselves or others, and never to pretend or flatter themselves."

We ought to commit what Miss Ueland says to memory, for use to aspirant writers who write to us for advice, to undergraduates who want to know whether they should enter newspaper work, and to contributors who tell us that this is their first piece, and should they continue. To the first we always say go ahead and write; to the second, enter newspaper work if you can get a job—and go to the editor who hires the help and not to the columnist who is himself only one of the help and probably is on the brink of being fired—and to the third, keep on contributing. The way to learn to write is to write, always remembering to read, to read anything rather than nothing, in your spare time, of which you have much more than you think.

Observation of a Philadelphia educator: "A bright child shouldn't get too many A's on his report card; a D once in a while will do him good. For life isn't always going to strew A's all around him."

THEY PREACH CONTENTMENT

From Chesley Enterprise

If there ever was anything that appeared to promote our sense of humor more than a bald-headed barber recommending to his patrons a tonic in his shop as a sure restorer of hair, it was a speaker to rural audiences who had left the old homestead and is now enjoying a salary of $5,000 to $6,000 a year, advising boys to be sure not to leave the old farm.

SWAN SONG

Song of the wild swan, clear and sweet and trailing
Out of the dusk where a slow stream curves by—
We hear it—and our very hearts are silenced
Before the strange, premonitory cry.

Like echo of forgotten music mingled
With infinite sorrow of the earth—and all...
Burdened with beauty—and bright beauty's ending—
Across our dream, is swept the desolate call.
We hear it—in its brave and awful triumph
Over the shadows, over the faltering breath.
Song of the wild swan: prophecy of something
That shall be ours in the dark time of death!

We beg to thank all of the visitors, who, by their kindly remarks have inspired us with the spirit to carry on. God willing we hope to greet you all among the flowers next spring. Horticulturally yours.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT WADDELL

OIL RIGHTS IN PEACE RESERVED

The provincial government today took additional steps to protect its oil rights in the Peace River district, where it intends to drill for oil.

By order-in-council the government ruled that all petroleum leases in the area which expire or are vacated for any other reason shall fall within the reserve established in the Peace River in 1934.

Premier Pattullo has announced that if the government strikes oil in the Peace River it will belong to the government. No private leases will be issued beyond those that are already held.

Two Magistrates Are Appointed

Provincial appointments announced today included Patrick V. Tallon of Burns Lake to be a stipendiary magistrate in Prince Rupert County and Arthur B. Fenwick of Grand Forks to fill a similar position for Yale County, with added jurisdiction over the small debts court in Grand Forks area.

Dr. R. D. Coddington of Ocean Falls was named medical health officer and school health inspector for the district, replacing Dr. R. A. Gilchrist.

Cecil W. Sharp of Tofino was appointed a notary public.

CITY POUND IS RENOVATED

City Poundkeeper Alex Kennedy is arranging new quarters for his canine charges and people whose pets are lost or strayed will not have to worry about their comfort in future, so long as they find their way to the pound.

While restoring of piles at the city garbage wharf, where the pound itself will be renovated. Plaster walls will replace the old wooden structure and the whole place will be made more sanitary.

One forlorn puppy is now in the pound and he has been put into a special kennel while the renovations are under way. At this time of the year few dogs find their way into the toils of the law because most of the dog licenses are paid.

Power-raft Boys Are Complimented

William C. Bond, after whom the original Bond's Beach in Victoria West was named, was among those who read with interest of the novel power-raft constructed by Dick Clark and a number of other boys, on that beach, last summer.

Mr. Bond is now a resident of Chicago, Ill., and a letter has arrived at the Times office, to be forwarded to young Clark, complimenting the boys on their "amiable spirit of thrift and enterprise exemplified in good clean wholesome sport."

Mr. Bond continues: "Those of us who have had the pleasure of achievements with small beginnings, delight to see in you and other young folk, this noble trait, and want you to know that people, older than yourselves,

25 Years Ago

SEPTEMBER 15, 1913
(From the Times Files)

Work was begun this morning on the long delayed Gorge road paving contract when the city put several gangs to work to do the fine grading, the rough grading being the one phase of the work that was completed before the shut down. There is also between 1,800 and 1,900 feet of curb and gutter to go in before the concrete base is put in.

Three offers have been received by the city in response to the advertisement asking for land which it should lease and sublet to industries.

Two persons fined for speeding in the city both complained that it was impossible to drive a car 10 miles an hour. Both were made to pay the usual $20 fine.

Freshly covered with a new coat of whitewash, the exhibition buildings at the Willows present a spick and span appearance which will be by no means maintained when the fair is over two weeks hence.

At Government House

His Honor and Mrs. Hamber Hosts Today at Tea and Reception for B.C. Medical Association Delegates and Their Wives

Mainland and island doctors and their wives, gathered here for the annual convention of the B.C. Medical Association, visited Government House this afternoon to enjoy the delightful hospitality of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber.

The affair took the form of a late afternoon reception and tea, and the guests numbered nearly 400. As at all the Government House parties, the floral arrangements were superb, blossoms running the gamut of all the autumn hues from pale gold to vivid crimson. Being massed in the halls and reception rooms. Gladioli, zinnias, dahlias, helonium, all lent their quota of beauty to the general decorative scheme and were much admired by the visitors.

His Honor and Mrs. Hamber received their guests in the drawing room, Mrs. Hamber wearing a graceful floor-length gown of lace in a beautiful shade of Mediterranean blue, with brief puff sleeves, and a necklace of pearls. In attendance on His Honor were the aides, Brigadier Sutherland Brown, Lt. Col. Vincent McKenna, Lt. Col. Hugh Allan, Capt. W. Hobart Molson, Major M. W. Turner, Capt. N. Van der Vliet, and Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn, private secretary.

An orchestra dispensed soft music in the ballroom, where tea was served from a buffet table running the length of the room and centred with artistic groupings of zinnias in vivid hues, with tall ivory tapers in silver candelabra.

WEDDINGS

LOCKE-FAWCETT

Of much interest to Victoria friends of the bridegroom was the wedding performed in All Saints' Church, Ladner, B.C., on Saturday last at 1:30 between Edwin John B. Locke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Locke, Victoria, to Jessie Margaret, only daughter of Mr. Arthur T. Fawcett and the late Mrs. Fawcett, of Ladner. The bride is the granddaughter of the late Canon and Mrs. Hilton, and great-granddaughter of the late Bishop McClean, a pioneer Anglican of this province.

Rev. A. J. Taylor performed the ceremony, and during the singing of the register Mr. Pacey sang "For You, My Dear." Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a charming figure in her floor-length gown of hyacinth blue taffeta with touches of pink, with form-fitting bodice, short sleeves, and bouffant skirt. Her hat was of taffeta to match, and she wore mittens, and a cameo locket, the gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of rosebuds, lilies of the valley and sweet peas.

Miss Gertrude Fawcett of Vancouver, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant, wearing a frock similarly fashioned to the bride's, of ashes of roses pink taffeta. The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. C. W. E. Locke of Ocean Falls, and Mr. Edward Fawcett, brother of the bride, headed the ushers.

After the service a reception was held at the bride's home. Masses of flowers were beautifully arranged by Mrs. Bell, an old friend of the bride's late mother. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. B. Slayton of Ladner. After a honeymoon trip to Mount Rainier, Mr. and Mrs. Locke will make their home for the present at Ladner, where the bridegroom is on the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the bridegroom's mother and sister, Mrs. C. E. Locke and Miss Dorothy Locke of Victoria, and his brother, Mr. C. W. E. Locke of Ocean Falls, and Mrs. Locke.

TROTTER-GRIFFITHS

Autumn flowers were used to decorate the First United Church, Port Alberni, last evening at 8 for the wedding of Peggy May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Griffiths of Port Alberni, to Mr. George Trotter, second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Trotter of Courtenay. Rev. A. B. Wood presided at the organ, ushers were Mr. Len Robinson, Mr. Verne Kendrick and Mr. Bernard Brown. Mr. Crofton Winnipenny was best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess gown of ice white rousine satin, with Brussels lace inserts and collar, short puff sleeves and a fish-tail train. She wore a veil of Brussels's net and point lace, a family heirloom worn by the bride's mother on her wedding day. A Juliet cap with orange blossoms, held the veil in position, and her bouquet was of Talisman roses and lily of the valley. Mrs. V. Kendrick was matron of honor in pink tree-bark chiffon, designed on Grecian lines, with a picture hat of pink tulle, and carried pink carnations. Miss Kay Herbertson as bridesmaid, wore hyacinth blue chiffon, in bolero-tuxedo model, an off-the-face hat, and carried a shower bouquet of pink asters. During the signing of the register, Mr. Bert Williams sang "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Arrowview Hotel. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Trotter left for Victoria en route to Banff, the bride traveling in a tailored suit of British tan, with top coat of dull gold cloth, and halo hat to match. On their return they will reside at Marpole Hill, Port Alberni.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. Trotter, Sr., Courtenay; Mr. and Mrs. A. Trotter Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wiles, Vancouver.

A highly gifted artist will be heard here next week when Gordon Manley, brilliant young Canadian pianist plays here under the patronage of the I.O.D.E. This concert, the opening event in Victoria's musical season, will be given at the Empress Hotel ballroom on Thursday, September 22, at 8:30.

Mr. Manley has been called the new star in the musical firmament, and his appearance everywhere is greeted by enthusiastic audiences and critics. The distinguished pianist and teacher, Stojkowski, a pupil of Paderewski, selected Gordon Manley for a scholarship at his New York studios. This is recognized as a signal honor by the musical world. False Teeth Wearers Are Worst Breath Offenders!

"Need More Than a Mouth Wash" say Authorities... Recommend Polident

Plates and bridges soak up odors and impurities like a sponge! A thin dark scum collects on them. This scum holds germs and decay bacteria. It is so tough that ordinary brushing seldom removes it. And it gets into every tiny crevice where brushing can't even reach. Almost always it results in "denture breath"—probably the most offensive of all breath odors.

Yet there's a perfect way to clean and purify false teeth without brushing, acid or danger. It is Polident, the powder that dissolves away all scum, stains, tartar and odor. Makes breath sweeter—and plates or bridges look better and feel better. Tens of thousands call Polident a bless-

Duncan Girl Wed Last Night

Miss Leonie Langlois Becomes Bride of Mr. Frank Reeves

St. John's Church, Duncan, was beautifully decorated by friends of the bride for the wedding last evening at 8 of Leonie Olive, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Langlois, York Road, Duncan, and William Francis (Frank) Reeves, only son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Reeves, Duncan. Rev. H. T. Archbold was the officiating clergyman, and Miss L. Monk was at the organ. During the signing of the register Mr. Lewis Langlois, brother of the bride, sang "Through the Years."

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, looked lovely in a floor length gown of ivory satin, made with flared skirt coming into a tie bodice, and worn with a Dupont lace jacket in a delicate shade of peach, contrasting with the ivory of the dress. A white halo hat, with short veil, and shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and white carnations, completed the ensemble.

Her sister, Eileen Langlois, was bridesmaid, wearing a dress of Turquoise lace over taffeta, made with a short bolero. She wore a bluish pink georgette "doll" hat, trimmed with turquoise velvet flowers, and streamers at the back, and a sheaf bouquet of gladioli, in pink and pastel shades. Mr. Henry Langlois acted as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, for relatives and immediate friends. The bridal party stood under an arch of flowers. Guests were received by Mrs. Langlois, who wore a gown of Oporto wine metallase crepe with touches of Du Barry rose, a "Lady Beatrice" model hat in wine felt, with ostrich trim, and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia rosebuds, and Mrs. P. J. Reeves, dressed in a crepe costume of navy blue, with matching hat, and corsage of white carnations. The dining-room table was centered with the handsome three-tier wedding cake, made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. T. Sauvery, Victoria, and decorated and iced by Miss Violet Page, Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reeves left for a motor trip to the United States, the bride wearing a dress of navy blue sheer, hat en suite, and top coat of British tan, and tan accessories. On their return they will make their home at Cranbrook, where the groom is employed.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. T. S. Sauvery, Mr. T. Sauvery, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rowbotham and family, all of Victoria.

"Unless it is believed that England will stand by Czechoslovakia and France, we can not be sure that peace will really be preserved or that war is permanently averted," continued the Duchess, who is touring Canada under the auspices of the Canadian League for Peace and Democracy in the interests of the Spanish government.

OH DEAR! I DON'T SEE WHAT KEEPS YOU SO THIN!

BUT, GOSH, MOM, I CAN'T HELP IT IF I CAN'T PUT ON WEIGHT.

I KNOW YOU CAN'T, DEAR... BUT JUST LOOK AT THAT BOY, HE'S ABOUT YOUR AGE AND HE WEIGHS 10 POUNDS MORE THAN YOU.

WELL, HE WOULD SAY THAT, HE'S USED TO TRYING TO TELL US HE WASN'T NATURALLY WEAK AND THIN!

SOME TIME LATER

WELL, WOULD YOU LOOK AT THAT, HE'S PUT ON 3 POUNDS ALREADY!

AND TO THINK PEOPLE USED TO TRY TO TELL US HE WAS NATURALLY WEAK AND THIN!

MYLIE LAYER

WHY, HELL, WHAT IN THE WORLD HAVE YOU DONE TO HIM? HE LOOKS LIKE A DIFFERENT CHILD!

GOODNESS, I WISH MY MONEY COULD GAIN WEIGHT LIKE THAT!

WELL, THAT'S MY ADVICE... HAVE HIM TRY OVALTINE, TOO.

If your Child Can't Build Up As He Should:

If your child presents a problem like the one above, by all means get acquainted with Ovaltine. For the addition of this remarkable food-drink to his daily diet may mark a turning point in his life—as it has done in so many similar cases. For example, one delighted mother, Mrs. Agnes Phillips, writes:—"My two boys were frail and underweight. Then two months ago I began giving them Ovaltine—and I wish you could see them now. In those two months, my youngest boy went from 45 to 65 pounds. And his older brother went from 60 to 76 pounds. You may be sure I'll never be without Ovaltine in my house after this."

This letter deals, of course, with one individual experience. We cannot predict that the same results will follow in every case when Ovaltine is given. But, this letter is so typical of thousands received, that we feel a fair trial of Ovaltine is justified for every child who is slow in building up and tends to be underweight.

You simply give Ovaltine mixed with milk—either hot or cold—and children love its delicious taste. Get a large-sized tin today—and accept free offer at right!

No Tenderfeet in Yellowknife

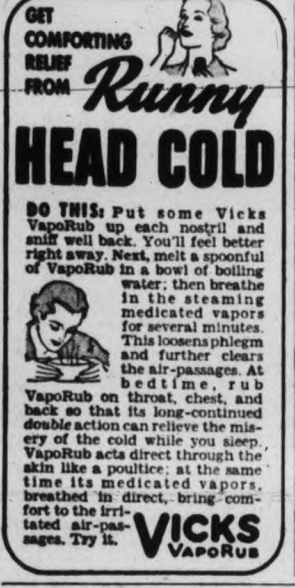

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. Charles Camsell, deputy Minister of Mines and Resources, arrived in Vancouver over the weekend and said he planned to spend a few days here and in Victoria. A native of Fort Liard and son of a Hudson's Bay Company factor, Dr. Camsell is chairman of the administrative council of the northwest territories.

"I was never prouder of the north than I am today," Dr. Camsell told interviewers.

He added that it was still too early to estimate the magnitude of the Yellowknife mining area, "but its growth has been an inspiration to all those who believe in the great future of Canada's mines."

The Yellowknife has been kept free of riff-raff," he said. "We cannot keep people out, but we warn them that the area is no place for the tenderfoot without money."

Runny HEAD COLD

DO THIS: Put some Vicks VapoRub up each nostril and sniff well back. You'll feel better right away. Next, melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water; then breathe in the steaming medicated vapors for several minutes. This loosens phlegm and further clears the air-passages. At bedtime, rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back so that its long-continued double action can relieve the misery of the cold while you sleep. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice; at the same time its medicated vapors, breathed in direct, bring comfort to the irritated air-passages. Try it. VICKS VapoRub

ORGANIZER ON TOUR

VANCOUVER (CP) — E. J. Garland of Calgary, national organizer for the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, will arrive in interior British Columbia tomorrow for a tour of the province, it was announced today by C.C.F. officials here.

Officials said he would tour the Fraser Valley, Vancouver and Vancouver Island districts later.

LOOK FOR THE GRADE MARK when you buy...

When ordering your eggs, poultry, canned fruits and vegetables, and creamery butter, ask for the quality you want, by grade — then look for the grade mark on your purchase. When you buy by grade, you buy with confidence.

EGGS

The Government grades of Eggs are: GRADE "A", GRADE "B", GRADE "C".

GRADE A (three sizes): Large, Medium, Pullet; best quality, suitable for poaching, boiling, frying; GRADE B, good quality, slightly inferior to Grade A for poaching, boiling, frying, but entirely suitable for cooking purposes;

GRADE C, lowest graded quality. (Grade A, Large, Medium, Pullet, finest quality fresh eggs from Government inspected flocks, are available in limited quantities in certain localities.) Grade names are marked clearly on egg containers.

POULTRY

The Government grades of Poultry are: GRADE "A", GRADE "B", GRADE "C".

GRADE A, superb birds, well-fleshed, especially fattened for tenderness and flavour; GRADE B, good birds but not as well-fleshed, fattened or flavoured as Grade A;

GRADE C, lowest graded quality. (Grade A, Large, Medium, Pullet, may be identified readily by a coloured tag on the wing or breast of the bird — Red for Grade A — Blue for B — Yellow for C.)

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

The Government grades of Canned Fruits and Vegetables are: FANCY QUALITY — CHOICE QUALITY — STANDARD QUALITY.

FANCY QUALITY, packed from a selection of the best fruit and vegetables available; practically uniform in maturity and free from blemishes; uniform in size and colour, canned at the proper time, so that excellence of flavour and appearance may be preserved.

CHOICE QUALITY, packed from fruit and vegetables selected for tenderness and flavour. Not as uniform as "Fancy Quality," allows slight variation in size, colour and maturity.

STANDARD QUALITY, packed from fruit and vegetables of good quality but not necessarily meeting the higher grade requirements as to size, colour and maturity.

CREAMERY BUTTER

The Government grades of Creamery Butter are: FIRST GRADE — SECOND GRADE — THIRD GRADE.

FIRST GRADE — highest quality; excellent flavour; well made; smooth, waxy texture; uniform in colour.

SECOND GRADE — usually inferior in flavour, texture or colour.

perfect in flavour; may be defective in texture or uneven in colour.

THIRD GRADE — inferior to second grade in flavour, texture or colour.

Still Seeking Job Insurance

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) — The Dominion government will not relax its efforts to obtain nationwide unemployment insurance, Hon. Norman Rogers, federal Minister of Labor, yesterday assured the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

"We will not relax our efforts," he declared. "The set-back we received last year (when several provinces declined to agree to amending the constitution to make such a system possible) was a bitter disappointment to me as Minister of Labor in a government which was making every effort to secure this by co-operation."

Canadian Bar to Japanese Urged

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) — The North Vancouver Junior Board of Trade today was on record as favoring a resolution that the gentlemen's agreement with Japan regarding immigration be discontinued.

Jack Melville, who sponsored the resolution Tuesday night, will represent British Columbia at the annual convention of the Canadian Junior Chambers of Commerce in Montreal next month and will place the resolution before that body.

Young Albertan Invents Device to Show Human Body's Vitamin A Contents

EDMONTON (CP) — Invention of a device which determines the vitamin A contents in a human system in 30 seconds was announced here yesterday by Dr. Lionel Bradley Pett, youthful University of Alberta lecturer-scientist.

Lack of vitamin A is related closely to "night blindness," colds and other diseases of the nose and throat, Dr. Pett said.

The device, simple in appearance but actually involved in its construction, outwardly resembles a circus midway "penny peep" machine. Staring into the peep-tubes, a patient's eyes are dazzled by a strong light shining on white paper.

Water Sold by the Barrel

In March, 1889, water first poured from Vancouver taps. Previously, it could be purchased for a few cents a barrel from vendors whose roughly constructed carts lumbered through the town.

Six years before the first water-works system was installed in the province, the Canada Life, even then in its thirty-sixth year, issued its first policy to a resident of British Columbia.

From its humble birth ninety-one years ago, the Canada Life has developed into a great co-operative enterprise. To-day, hundreds of thousands of policyholders entrust to it savings of more than two hundred and fifty million dollars.

Stock Parade Outstanding

Fair Crowds Thrilled by Magnificent Cattle and Horses

Under a blazing sun and before thousands of persons who watched from every vantage point, the great stock parade, a feature of the annual autumn exhibition, took place at the Willows yesterday afternoon.

It was a most impressive parade and lasted more than an hour. Every class of livestock was led from the barns and paraded before the grandstand in the oval. There the fine animals lined in formation to make an imposing spectacle. The horses were first, followed by dozens of cows and bulls. They stretched a quarter of a mile and were lined five rows deep. The great throng in the grandstand and along the fences frequently applauded as the massive animals, their sleek hides glistening in the sun, paraded to the ground and back. The crowd laughed as the ponies and calves became frolicsome.

JERSEY CLASS

Saanich Jersey breeders topped their class in the exhibition, Ian Douglas winning the bull championship, and Herbert E. Burbridge the cow championship. The Burbridge farm won many other prizes as well.

HOLSTEIN CLASS

The Canadian Pacific Railway farm at Strathmore, Alberta, and Colony Farm of Essondale shared honors in the Holsteins. C.P.R. won the junior championship for cows and Colony Farm the reserve championship. The senior championship went to Colony Farm and the reserve to the C.P.R. The grand champion was Colony Flood Colantha Netherland of Essondale.

AYRSHIRE CLASS

Richard Brothers of Red Deer, Alberta, and E. A. Wells and Sons of Sardis shared honors in the Ayrshires. Richard Brothers took the junior championship and reserve for cows. The senior championship went to Wells, who also won the grand championship with Richard Brothers taking the reserve.

Junior bull championship went to Richard Brothers and the reserve to Wells. Senior championship went to Richards and reserve to Wells, and the grand and reserve to Wells.

SHORTHORNS

James Turner of Cadboro Bay was the only entrant in the Shorthorns, but he won high praise by the judge and cattle experts who saw his fine animals.

Among his animals, which were admired on all sides, were Royal Hercules, Royal August, Royal Sunbeam, Royal Ann, Royal Joe, Royal Leader, Royal Prospect, Royal Gift, Royal Celebration, Royal George, Royal Irish, Royal Betty, Royal Delight, Royal Attraction, Royal Primrose, Royal Jean, Marshall's Queen, Marshall's Jean, Marshall's Ideal, Perfect Mirth, Elderslie Duchess, Mae West, Qualicum Yuletide, Qualicum Parfait, Queen of the Roses, Butterfly Lily, Royal Perfection, Royal Rose, Winnie Mae, Queen Betty and Rosalind.

GUERNSEY CLASS

The Hart and Gammeltoft ranch of Roy, Washington, walked off with the highest honors in the class for Guernseys. Douglas Ultra William won the grand championship for bulls and Dimple of Puyallup Valley was named the grand champion cow.

THE CALF CLUBS

Langley Jersey Calf Club won in interclub competition, with Saanich Jersey Heifer Club second and the Saanich Jersey Calf Club in third place.

In the Ayrshire class, the Fraser Valley Ayrshire Heifer Club was first, the Chilliwack Ayrshire Calf Club second and the Langley Ayrshire Calf Club third.

POULTRY

Competition was keen in the poultry classes this year, there being 900 entries.

P. John Sarsiat of Tennyson Avenue won the grand championship of the show with a White Crested Polish Cock.

This same breeder, who had 140 entries in the show, also won the championship for his Houdan and the championship for his Hanbury, a silver spangle cockerel.

Other poultry awards were: Champion English class, light Sussex cockerel, R. B. Swallow, Victoria; champion American class, Rhode Island Red cockerel, H. D. Reid, Victoria; champion Mediterranean class, White Leghorn cockerel, A. Adams, Lake Hill; champion Rhode Island, H. D. Reid; champion Jersey Giant, white hen, F. Mix, Victoria; champion New Hampshire, red pullet, J. Reason, Cobble Hill; champion Brahma cock, J. F. Hanna, Victoria; champion Leghorn, white cockerel, A. Adams, Lake Hill; champion Minorca, black hen, H. G. Robinson, Prospect Lake; champion Barnevelder, Gavin Jack, Gordon Head; champion production hen, White Leghorn, A. Adams, Lake Hill. Mrs. Berger of Colwood was the only one to enter turkeys. She received high praise from the judges for her entries, which experts said were as fine as any on Vancouver Island.

SWINE

A. C. Weir of Aberdeen, Saskatchewan, continued to lead throughout the exhibition in the swine classes. His Yorkshire boar won the championship and reserve.

He also took first in the class for Yorkshire sows, 18 months and under two years, with Killmalu Sybil from Darby Farm, E. J. T. Woodward second.

In the class for Yorkshire sows, 12 months and under 18 months he won first and second places with Darby Farm Surprise, also entered by Mr. Woodward in third place.

Weir's Yorkshire boars took first and second place in the class for 12 months and under 18 months, with E. J. T. Woodward third.

Grandview Rival Princess from the Woodward Farm at Albert Head was named senior champion Berkshire sow, with R. A. Coleman's entry of Ladner, Kate 3R as reserve.

DAHLIAS

The Victoria Dahlia Society's annual show added still further color to the Main Building at the Willows Exhibition Grounds yesterday. The show will continue until Saturday.

Brown's Victoria Nurseries were awarded first place for the largest and best dahlias.

Edgar Huntley took first place for the best dahlia in the show with "Lemonia," a cactus variety, which measured 13 inches in diameter.

G. Smethurst won two classes. Mrs. E. W. Darcus won for her table decoration, with Angus MacKay second and Mrs. H. Marshall in third place.

Angus MacKay won first for the best basket of pompons, with C. M. Whyte second. Mrs. E. Ludbrook won in the best basket of miniatures. A. G. Price and Mrs. H. Marshall had the best singles.

Mrs. W. Casey of Saanichton entered some blooms from plants that had not been watered, their beauty being due entirely to cultivation. In this class Evan Jones placed second and Miss M. Harnes third.

Among the commercial exhibitors were Layritz Nurseries, Oaklands Nurseries, Baldwin's Nurseries, James (Canadian) Seeds Limited of Duncan, Arrow-smith and Son, Bazan Bay.

Public Can Help Disease Control

Every Individual Has Permanent Duty, Says Health Officer

By DR. D. BERMAN
Medical Health Officer Saanich Municipality

During health week special efforts are made to arouse public consciousness to realize the inestimable value of health, and the continuous work and vigilance necessary to maintain health and a healthful living environment.

It is the hope of the public health workers that the program of health week may not soon be forgotten, but that every individual will realize that he has a permanent duty to perform to himself and the community in being the keeper and guardian of his fellow man's welfare as well as his own.

Nowhere and at no time is such an attitude towards infectious or communicable diseases more vital to the very existence and proper functioning of our highly complex and sensitive civilization and economic structure than at present.

It is not necessary to be an accomplished historian to learn that whole civilizations have disappeared and that the course of history has been completely changed many times through plagues or epidemics of infectious diseases.

Every child is invariably impressed when he reads of the ravages of the black plagues of the 14th and 17th centuries, and their reappearance in the present century not only on distant continents, but on this continent not more than 1,000 miles away.

It is only 20 years ago that a greater toll than that of the World War was taken by influenza and typhus.

Less spectacular are the common infectious diseases which occur both epidemically and sporadically.

It's "Home, Sweet Home" Now ... With A Bedside Telephone

John and Mary thought their happiness was complete when they moved into a new home, larger than their old one — two storeys, in fact. Then a serious problem arose. It seemed to Mary that she was always upstairs when the telephone rang downstairs. One midnight telephone call that sent John dashing downstairs in the dark, and left him with a bruised toe and a frayed temper, convinced him that something had to be done. The solution, of course, was a bedside telephone. They had one installed, and everything is rosy now.

Would Not Take Czechs As Gift

Mussolini Gives Assurance Hitler Has No Designs on Bohemia

ROME (AP)—Italian assurance was given today that Chancellor Hitler would not take the Czech population of Czechoslovakia even as "a gift."

This was interpreted by some diplomats as an indirect offer of Germany to guarantee the Czechs integrity of their new frontier if they give up the Sudeten German areas to the Reich.

The assurance, embodied in an open letter to Viscount Runciman, British unofficial mediator of the Sudeten dispute, published in Premier Mussolini's Milan newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, was understood to have been written by Mussolini himself.

The letter was given a quasi-official character when it also was issued as a government communiqué.

"The writer of this letter is in a position to tell you—confidentially—that were he to be offered the 3,500,000 Czechs (there are about 10,000,000 Czechs and Slovaks in Czechoslovakia), Hitler would decline such a gift politely but resolutely," the letter said.

This could scarcely be given any other interpretation, diplomats said, than that Hitler had assured Mussolini he did not want the "Bohemia of tomorrow" and Mussolini had "confidentially" transmitted the assurance to Lord Runciman.

HUNGARIANS, POLES

The letter also advocated restoration of territories of Hungarians and Poles in Czechoslovakia to their fatherlands, if they desire, but it was less clear on disposition of Slovak and Ruthenian regions.

If the letter represents Hitler's plan, diplomats said, it might involve his giving an "eternal promise" of frontier integrity to the Czechs similar to the one he has given Italy.

Prime Minister Chamberlain's visit to Hitler was highly praised by the press.

The authoritative Fascist editor, Virginio Gayda, asserted in Il Giornale d'Italia that the visit showed Mr. Chamberlain "refused to abandon himself to the currents of intriguing demagoguery and revolutionary bellicosity, but decided personally to clarify the ends of the conflict and the reality of the problem."

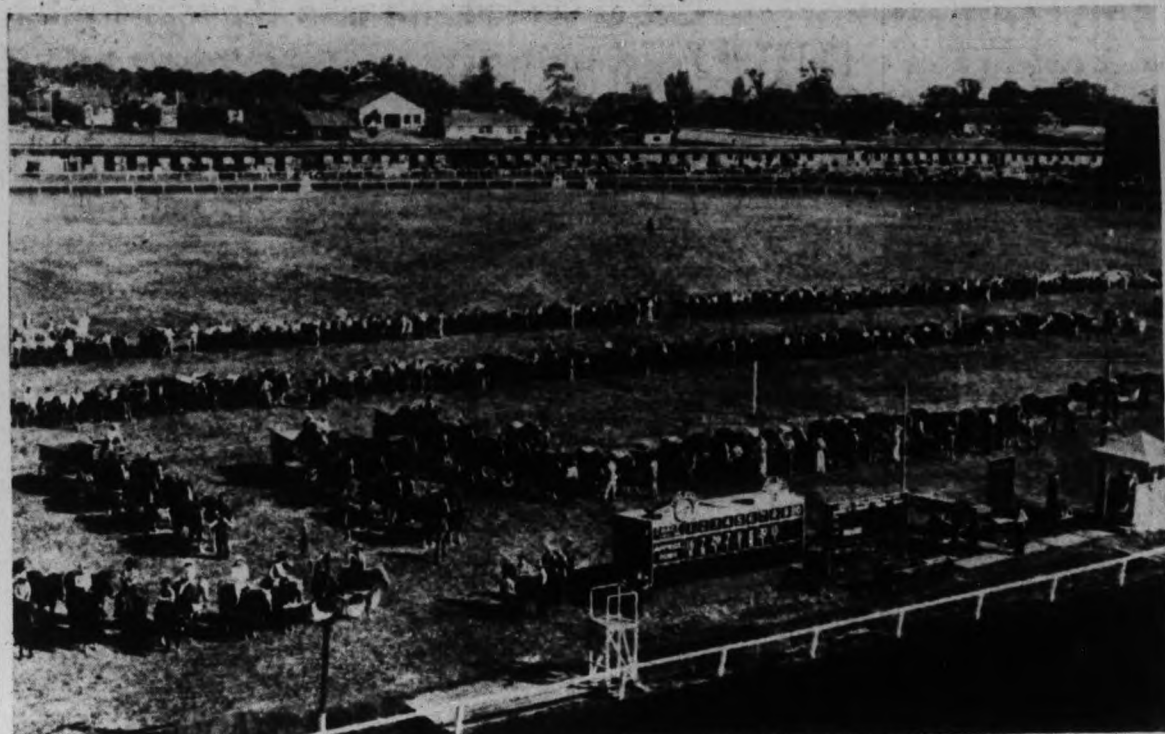

Easier Feeling In Great Britain

Relief as Chamberlain Talks With Hitler, Seeking to End Crisis

By PAT USSHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON—Britons uttered a collective sigh of relief today as Prime Minister Chamberlain visited Germany.

The hopes and prayers of the people accompanied the Prime Minister on his historic mission. The feeling was widespread that the outlook was definitely brighter with the direct action of Mr. Chamberlain in meeting Chancellor Hitler for a heart-to-heart talk.

The public, whose nerves had been strained toward the snap-

THOUSANDS SEE EXCELLENT STOCK PARADE—This panorama of the oval at Victoria Exhibition grounds shows the many fine horses and cattle in the annual stock parade yesterday afternoon, which was Citizens' Day. The sight was an inspiring one. Two hundred and thirty-five boys were hired, in addition to the regular hands, to lead the livestock to the field and back to their stalls. A total of 11,508 persons paid admissions to the fair yesterday, compared to 10,334 last year.

ping point by the tension of recent days, relaxed and awaited the outcome of the meeting between the Prime Minister and the Führer.

GOOD OMEN SEEN

As the plane bearing Mr. Chamberlain sped high over London, the roar of its engines sounded a hopeful note in the ears of the capital's citizens. Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, observed at the airport: "What a fine morning! Perhaps it is a good omen."

Strube, in his cartoon in the London Daily Express, neatly depicted the situation: An ark tossing on the "sea of high tension" on which there is a cabin with the door numbered 10, with an airplane flying from the ark into dark, ominous clouds.

The Chamberlain trip electrified the Stock Exchange, bringing a wave of buying. In early trading war loans jumped as high as 44 above Wednesday's lowest figures.

PRaised BY PRESS

The press voiced unstinted praise of Mr. Chamberlain's dramatic gesture. Two papers warned against disparaging criticism.

The London Daily Express, Independent, termed jingoism "those who will criticize him and say of him that the last man who made that journey to Hitler was Von Schuschnigg."

"These people are the jingoists of the land who walked up and down spreading foolish rumors and false stories, frequently telling us that war was inevitable," the Express added.

The Yorkshire Post, Conservative, said: "Those who feel that the British Prime Minister's visit will be misunderstood by the Nazi mentality and interpreted as a sign of weakness and deference would do well to reflect that the factor of overriding importance is that Germany shall be left under no misapprehension whatever as to the British attitude towards the Czech crisis."

Here are some more typical press comments:

The Manchester Guardian, Liberal: "He will be aware that there are those in Germany who may regard his visit as a sign of weakness but he will have it in his own hands to show it is not so and that this country remains firm in its intentions and that his motive is simply a supreme effort to find a way to peace that can be honorably accepted."

Diplomats Split on Wisdom of Move

GENEVA (AP)—Diplomats of 50 nations split sharply today over the wisdom of Prime Minister Chamberlain's visit to Berchtesgaden to see Chancellor Hitler.

They all agreed the result would mean a long stride toward peace or war, but they differed over the direction.

Most of them called it a bold move. Win or lose, they said, Mr. Chamberlain's visit meant France and Great Britain had tossed their cards on the table and Hitler's hand was called.

Some diplomats condemned the trip to see Hitler as "humiliating." This group considered Hitler's stock had been boosted tremendously and Great Britain's prestige would be weakened throughout eastern and north Africa and the Near East.

French Support British Premier

PARIS (CPHavas)—The good wishes of Frenchmen today followed Prime Minister Chamberlain in his meeting with Chancellor Hitler.

The French government stands squarely behind this latest, and perhaps last, effort to keep the peace.

The outcome depended entirely on the talk in the Bavarian chalet where the Prime Minister and the German Führer meet face to face for the first time.

Catholics, Protestants and Jews all announced special services for peace.

"WHOA! WAIT TILL I HAVE MY PICTURE TAKEN"—So says Joan Macdonald, 1085 Verrinder Avenue, riding one of the wild-looking horses on the merry-go-round at the Wil-lows Fair yesterday afternoon.

IN AN AIRPLANE BUILT FOR TWO—Here is one airplane that never crashes. It floats through the air at the Victoria Exhibition and yesterday was widely patronized by the children. In the front seat of the airplane is Patsy Pickup, 131 Wellington Avenue, and behind her is Nora Johnson, 245 Menzies Street.

Chinese Claim Drive Blocked

Say Counter-attacks Halt Japanese Move Toward Hankow

SHANGHAI (AP)—By repeated counter-attacks at Kwangsi, Hopeh province town which Japanese troops occupied nine days ago, Chinese said Thursday they were blocking the invaders' advance toward Hankow.

Japanese admitted the Chinese assaults were vicious but maintained all were repulsed.

REPORT TO SAIONJI

TOKIO (AP)—Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye paid a visit to 88-year-old Prince Kimmochi Saionji, last of the elder statesmen, today for the first time since August 26, 1937, just after the outbreak of the China war.

The older prince is always consulted in times of national stress. It was reported the Premier informed Prince Saionji of the progress of the conflict in China, of unannounced plans formulated by the cabinet to deal with the Chinese problem after the expected fall of Hankow, and of Japan's diplomatic policy of friendship with Germany and Italy in the European crisis.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, today called on all nations to have "the virtue, merit and strength not to resort to force" in the Czechoslovak crisis. The newspaper asserted moderation and eschewal of armed force in times of tension was not an indication of weakness, but of strength.

DOWNING STREET CROWD AND CAT—The great interest of the people of Britain in the events arising from the Sudeten-Czech crisis is indicated by the above picture of part of a crowd recently seen in Downing Street as members of the cabinet departed after a meeting. Many of the visitors to the historic street have become acquainted with its black cat. The other day it attracted much attention by putting in an appearance, walking up the steps of No. 10 and sitting there while the ministers inside held a momentous discussion.

Giants Back In Running

By PETE SALLAWAY

SINCE WINNING two United States open golf championships Ralph Guldahl has certainly developed the polish of a champion. That was the one thing that struck the writer during the course of Guldahl's appearance at the Victoria Golf Club on Tuesday for his exhibition match. Since he played here three years ago in the $3,000 open Guldahl has gone far and his personality and general attitude has changed no little.

The big, good-natured Texan has also learned the meaning of the word showmanship. During his match he wisecracked with the galleries several times and they liked it. There was a little criticism heard about the time the U.S. champion took in playing his shots but, after all, it was the privilege of a champion. And then again, Guldahl is that type of a player. He shows a lot of determination and likes to study his lies.

Strange, that when a golf champion of unquestioned ability performs, the spectators expect to see birdies and sensational shots spread all over the course. I have witnessed every exhibition golf match played on a Victoria course in recent years and every time have run across the same thing. If Guldahl had not come through with that spectacular shot on the 17th hole and his great attempt on the 18th I feel sure a large number of the gallery would have gone away feeling they had been cheated. Taking Guldahl's performance all around he played sound golf, except on the putting greens. His shots from tee and fairway were straight down the middle nearly every time and some of his approaches to the green were beautiful to see.

One must not forget the fact that a champion cannot work himself up to the same pitch in an exhibition match that he does in championship golf. In the latter case he is "shooting the works" and the "pressure" is on all the time.

I was one of the fortunate who enjoyed the company of Guldahl at lunch and during that time joined in some interesting discussion. We asked the champion for his opinion on the recent article that appeared in a popular magazine under the name of Gene Sarazen dealing with professional golf.

"If it cost Sarazen $2,000 to play in the British open championship and $600 to compete in the U.S. open at Denver, he spent a lot more money than the other boys," Guldahl said. "The members of the American Ryder Cup team each got $1,000 to cover their expenses in Britain and I know that Horton Smith, for one, came back with money. Gene's plan to raise more money for professional golf would be all right, but who is going to collect that 10 cents from every golfer. However, I do agree that more of the gate money should go into purses," Guldahl said.

There was one part of the conversation that certainly left me out in the cold. That was when Phil Taylor, Sandy Watson, Eric Todd and Guldahl started chatting about the British courses. The merits and faults of such famous layouts as Sandwich, Carnoustie and Hoylake were talked over. One thing I learned was that no British championship is ever decided over an inland course. Play always takes place on a coast links.

Those taking part in the discussion all agreed there should be no par on golf courses. After all, what difference does it make, they asked. "It is what you play around the course in that counts," Guldahl remarked.

Guldahl played in Vancouver yesterday and then boarded a train for Westchester, N.Y., to take part in the $10,000 tournament scheduled there.

During the course of his match at Oak Bay Guldahl paid the local club a nice compliment with the remark: "These are the finest greens I have played on in years."

At a meeting of the senior Arcade Five-pin League held on September 13, Dick Jones was re-elected president. B. Collins was named vice president, and Charlie Kinney secretary-treasurer.

Six teams have already entered. Entries will close on September 21, when the final meeting will be held. League will start on September 26 at 7:15.

They put a snowout patch on Pittsburgh's Pirates' pennant bubble today and tried to get it to take off again in what is hilariously referred to these days as the National League baseball "race."

Those forgotten New York Giants, featuring a patched-up infield and a pitching staff relying on sore wings, all but blew the bubble to bits yesterday by taking both ends of a double-header from the "choked up" Pirates.

Thus was continued the happy custom of never allowing a dull moment in this fabled senior circuit chase for Chicago Cubs, by whipping Boston's Sox, climbed to within 2½ games of the top, and the Giants moved to a third place tie with Cincinnati's Reds, who split a twin bill with Brooklyn.

Terrible Bill Terry gave up on the flag three weeks ago and then changed his mind and cut the Giants back at. The terrific Terriers have rolled up their sleeves, deciding there is every thing to win and nothing to lose.

HOMER PROTESTED

A homer by Gaby Hartnett with bases loaded gave the Cubs a 6 to 3 margin over the Sox, but the Bostonians disputed the hit as being just a foul ball and finished the game under protest.

Ernie Lombardi lashed two four-baggers and the Cincinnati Reds dropped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 4, in a doubleheader nightcap after Brooklyn won the opener, 6 to 2. Joe Medwick hit a pair of round-trippers as the St. Louis Cardinals crushed the Phillies, 12 to 9 and 3 to 2.

The American League race saw the New York Yankees' final game of the year with Cleveland rained out, but the Yankees, nevertheless, advanced to a spot where they need only four wins to clinch the pennant. Boston's second-place Red Sox belted the Detroit Tigers, 9 to 2, behind Joe Heving.

In the only other game that escaped the weatherman, the Philadelphia Athletics nipped the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 3, on Wally Moses' ninth-inning homer, to climb out of the cellar.

COAST LEAGUE

The second-place Seattle Suda, with 13 straight wins to their credit, remained the league-leading Los Angeles Angels' biggest worry today as the 1938 coast circuit baseball schedule neared its end.

The Suda unleashed an eight-hit, eight-run attack in the fifth to overcome a San Diego Padre lead and win 8 to 1 last night. Up to the fifth, the best the Suda could do was get a couple of scattered singles off Dick Ward. Ward was sent to the showers in the fifth after he allowed seven hits and four runs. The veteran Herman Pilleme, who replaced him, was nipped for only one hit. Two errors helped the Suda score four more runs.

Los Angeles, only two games ahead of Seattle, had an easy time taking a 4 to 1 game from the last-place Oakland A's. Bob Gibson's homer in the eighth gave Oaks their only score and ended a streak of 15 scoreless innings for them.

The Angels have five games left on their schedule, Suda six. Despite an 8 to 1 setback by (Turn to Page 12, Col. 1)

English Rugby Tour All Set

Canadian Fifteen Will Invade Old Country for Two Months in 1940

VANCOUVER — After three years of endeavor, H. J. Kitchen, president of the Canadian Rugby Union, will see his fondest dream come true. In the fall of 1940 an All-Canada team will embark for England for a two months' playing tour. Kitchen is in close touch with "Twickenham" and nothing short of a European war would postpone the trip.

Fixtures are billed with 10 county and five club teams starting on September 7, and continuing to October 26, with two games a week. The opposition starts with Somerset, Devon and Cornwall in the south, and continues with Gloucestershire, Hereford, East Midlands, Northumberland and Durham, Yorkshire and Cumberland, North Midlands, Public School Old Boys, Warwickshire, Leicestershire, Combined Services, Oxford and Cambridge universities and Blackheath.

A representative team will be chosen for the trip. An opportunity to size up the players from the Maritimes and British Columbia will probably be given at the San Francisco Exposition. The Glace Bay fifteen of Nova Scotia have received an invitation to play and will probably meet a British Columbia fifteen.

Teamed with Dunc Sutherland, he earned a 3 and 2 victory over Davie Black and Freddie Wood in a four-ball foursome. His score was four below par and two better than Davie Black's whose hole-in-one on the 90-yard 11th helped him card a 69.

Seek "War" News

European Crisis Even Affects U.S. Tennis Championships; Friends of Henkel Worried

FOREST HILLS, N.Y.—European competitors, visibly uneasy, were spending more time around the press box asking for the latest "war" news from Europe than in watching the matches as the United States national tennis championships reached the quarter-final stage today.

Except for a pair of Australians, Jack Bromwich and Harry Hopman, all invaders had been eliminated in the men's title hunt. But the defeated British, French and Yugoslav delegates still were around, wondering if they would receive calls to hurry home and not to go on west for the Pacific Coast events.

Henkel was the only German sitting in the players' stand. He was ordered to return home a fortnight ago, after the German Davis Cup team lost to the Australians in the interzone final, but he has lingered here as a spectator. "Friends of the popular young player are worried at his apparent disobedience of orders."

YESTERDAY'S PLAY Bitty Grant held the spotlight yesterday with his victory over Adrian Quist of Australia. With Grant into the round of eight went Sidney Wood, New York; Don Budge, defending champion, and Hopman.

Wood, as was expected, eliminated Franjo Kukulevic, Yugoslavian southpaw, 8-6, 6-4, 6-3, by playing to his man's backhand. He next plays Grant.

Budge, after apparently standing in danger of dropping a set for the first time this year, put on the pressure to dust off England's Charles Edgar Hare, another left-hander, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0. Hopman, conqueror of fifth-seeded Elwood Cooke on Sunday, carried on by whipping Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

Filling four brackets in the women's quarter-finals, all on straight set victories, were Alice Marble and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, United States No. 2 and No. 4; Jadwiga Jedzejowska of Poland, foreign No. 1 and beaten finalist a year ago, and Gay Stamers, attractive English veteran, seeded third among the visitors. The other four round-of-eight survivors — Margaret Lumb of England; Nancy Wynne of Australia; Mme. Rene Mathieu of France; and Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica, Cal. — all reached that bracket Monday.

LACROSSE FINAL TOMORROW NIGHT

James Bay and Bluebirds to Battle Under Floodlights at Athletic Park

Under the newly-installed floodlights in the Athletic Park lacrosse box tomorrow night, those two fast-stepping intermediate clubs, James Bay and Bluebirds, will usher in their best-of-three series for the intermediate city championship.

A test was made of the new lighting system last night, and it was found to be quite satisfactory for the staging of night engagements. Seating accommodation will be increased for the game, which will start at 8.

Both of these squads have a fine record to show on this season's play and, as both managers have kept their players in good shape, a thrilling duel should be the order for the followers of the sport. Popham and Brynjolfsson will referee.

The following is a message from the SOCIETY OF HUMANITARIAN AND ABANDON: "Wish you every success in your campaign against what Victor Hugo rightly described as the crime of vivisection. The Duke and I firmly believe that the present crisis for inoculation, immunization and vaccination is responsible for much ill-health, in addition to its being repulsive from a moral and hygienic point of view. Veterans Hear Pensions Talk

Speaker Says Vital Evidence Necessary to Base Assistance Claims

Richard Hale, chief pension adjustment officer for the Canadian Legion at Ottawa, during the course of an address at an open meeting of Victoria veterans last night in the Britannia branch, said that the difficulty in securing aid for veterans who suffered injuries from the Great War was not the fault of the Dominion Government, but the difficulty in obtaining the necessary vital evidence to base the pension claims.

Mr. Hale told his audience that it was getting more difficult to secure adequate pensions for soldiers or their widows who waited many years after the Armistice before presenting their cases to the government. A record of medical treatment received within a short time of demobilization must be presented by pension seekers, he said.

Those who presented their cases early had little difficulty getting assistance, but those who contracted some obscure disease or ailment that was not readily recognized were lost in the demobilization shuffle and today were encountering difficulty in getting the financial assistance they are really entitled to.

The speaker lauded medical men and lawyers throughout the Dominion, noting that these men had given much of their time and effort to assist the disabled soldiers who were unable to provide for themselves. Lawyers and doctors had refused to accept payment for services in the bulk of cases.

The pension officer sketched the growth of the Canadian Legion in Canada and United States. The ranks of the Canadian Legion had been increased by 15,000 since 1935. The number of branches in the Dominion was 1,107, and three in the United States.

The speaker was introduced by Col. W. N. Winsby. Other officials attending were: Lieut. Col. Sir Percy Lake, grand president of the Legion; J. F. Harrison, Kamloops T.V.A., representative on the Legion's provincial executive, and W. Booth, Jasper, Alberta, secretary of the Jasper Legion post.

HINDU CLAIMS THREAT MADE

"You ran away last holiday but we catch you another time and fix you up good."

A score of Hindus, some turbaned, other bareheaded, sat in City Police Court this morning to hear Bholu, one of their kind, tell why he was afraid of Kundan Lal and Gurditta after, as he alleged, they had used this language to him. He wanted them bound over to keep the peace. The court, however, did not find sufficient evidence to support the allegation and dismissed the charge.

There were a number of witnesses on each side.

The court had difficulty in getting an interpreter satisfactory to both parties. The first man who tried was not giving the right translation; the prosecution claimed, so another Hindu came forward to interpret. The first one sat down beside R. C. Lowe, defence counsel, to check up.

Makes Fine Cohoe Catch at Cowichan

The finest catch of coho salmon made this year was reeled in by Ronald Hopkins this morning at Cowichan Bay. He landed four large coho and a 37-pound spring, all of which are being displayed in front of Roger Monteith's this afternoon.

The coho were in the best of condition. The largest weighed 14 pounds and the others tipped the indicator to 13, 12½ and 12 pounds.

Hopkins was out on the bay waters bright and early and by 9 had hooked the five fish. He reported the coho had plenty of fight to them and he was of the opinion that there were plenty of them in those waters as they could be heard jumping all night. All were lured with a King Heddon Bassier plug. The angler was fishing fairly deep and had 200 feet of wire line out.

PICKPOCKETS GET $274 LOOT

Pickpockets took advantage of the big holiday crowd for citizens' day at the fair and losses totaling $274 were reported to city police. P. M. W. Mitchell, 2021 Douglas Street, said he lost a wallet containing $250, including one $100 bill and other smaller bills. As far as he was aware it was lifted from his back pocket. Andrew Hanson, 240 Helmcken Road, lost $24.10 and his driver's license, which were in a leather billfold. He said he was standing in a crowded lineup outside the exhibition office when he missed it.

Strike Leaves Many Auto Workers Idle

DETROIT (AP)—Seven thousand employees of the Chrysler Corporation's Plymouth division were sent home today because a strike at the Briggs Manufacturing Company had shut off the supply of automobile bodies. Negotiations were in progress between the United Automobile Workers and Briggs officials. A dozen members of the U.A.W. picketed the Briggs plant, which was closed yesterday by the strike.

The company dismissed a shop steward and three others in the welding department and accused them of trying to retard production. Union workers sat down when their reinstatement was denied.

Coast Will Get Alberta Wheat

H. T. Jaffray of Imperial Bank Predicts Best Quarter

"With the general improvement in the United States and the stimulus given by western Canada's wheat crop it would appear that this quarter will be one of the most satisfactory final quarters of the year," said H. T. Jaffray, general manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada, discussing conditions as he found them on his present Canadian tour.

Mr. Jaffray, who is accompanied by his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Mackersy, will be at the Empress Hotel until tomorrow. Mr. Mackersy is assistant general superintendent of the bank at Winnipeg.

Discussing western Canada's crop, Mr. Jaffray, who has inspected the major wheat areas, said the outlook in Saskatchewan was disappointing. The yield there, due to drought, rust and grasshoppers, is not expected to be more than 150,000,000 bushels.

In Manitoba, however, the picture was much brighter, with an estimated crop of from 50,000,000 to 52,000,000 bushels, and with 90 per cent of it threshed.

Alberta was the best prospect with an estimated crop of 140,000,000 bushels.

"But it is my guess that the figure is conservative. It will probably be over that by a good margin. The crops there are simply wonderful."

B.C. TO BENEFIT

"British Columbia stands to benefit from the Alberta crop, for from 60,000,000 to 75,000,000 bushels of it will be routed westward through Vancouver to world markets provided, of course, there is no war."

"When I left Toronto there was no indication of war," said Mr. Jaffray, "but developments since have made the world situation uneasy."

The banker added that he believed the war scare would be lifted following the negotiations between Premier Chamberlain and Adolf Hitler.

Mr. Jaffray said he was impressed by the great possibilities in oil production in the Turner Valley in Alberta. He said possible production was 54,000 barrels daily. It was projected to 24,000 barrels a day, but would have to be bigger than that to be a source of supply for Canada. He believes that a pipeline will eventually be built to convey oil from the Turner Valley to the Pacific coast.

Mr. Jaffray said the Imperial Bank had no building intentions at the present time.

He is conferring today with J. H. D. Benson, local manager.

Chamberlain Talks With Duce

ROME (AP)—Usually reliable sources tonight said Prime Minister Chamberlain talked by telephone with Premier Mussolini before leaving London to visit Adolf Hitler. Mr. Chamberlain also was in close touch by telephone with a Premier Daladier of France. These sources said Mr. Chamberlain wished to ascertain Duce's attitude, as well as that of France, before meeting Hitler at Berchtesgaden.

Czechs Deny Big Moves of Troops

BERLIN (AP)—D.N.B., official German news agency, reported today in a dispatch from Neugersdorf, Saxony, near the Czechoslovak border, that military preparations in northern Czechoslovakia were alarmingly on the increase.

(In Prague, government authorities said there was no exceptional military activity.) The proclamation of Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German leader, demanding annexation of the Sudeten regions by Germany, received greater prominence in the German press than even the visit of Prime Minister Chamberlain to Berchtesgaden. Foreign diplomats expressed belief the proclamation was timed to confront Mr. Chamberlain with a new situation.

A comprehensive club system has been planned for students of Victoria High School. COLLECTIONS OF TAXES FALLING

Lagging payments during the first part of this month let the increase in current tax collections for the year to date slip from the $29,394 gain registered over 1937 at the end of August to $5,222.96 half way through this month, according to figures released today by the city assessor-collector's department.

At the close of collections last night a total of $832,646.96 had been paid since the beginning of the year through the medium of prepaids. On the same day in 1937 the total received through that channel by the city was $827,424.

The increase in prepaid collections was insufficient to compensate for the reduction in arrears collections this year. Up to yesterday $174,364.96 had been paid on outstanding tax accounts, against $187,735.26 up to September 14 last year. The decrease of $13,370.30 was reduced to a net $8,147.34 in total tax collections when the current increase was subtracted from it.

The slip in collections had been anticipated by city officials, since the tax rate this year is one and a half mills below that of last year, leaving approximately $50,000 less to collect, and the total outstanding in arrears far below that of last year. A reduction in arrears collections of $70,000 was anticipated by the collector at the beginning of the year owing to that fact.

Khorassan Order Honors Victorian

Pacific Northwest Convention Names Prince Allison Vice-president

On their return from the Pacific Northwest Convention of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan, held recently in Ellensburg, Washington, the local delegates announced that Royal Prince Allison of Victoria had been honored by the election to the office of vice-president.

Dokkies from Idaho, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, attending the conference and important legislation pertaining to the welfare and advancement of the order in the northwest was transacted. Patrol teams and drum corps from Seattle and Portland were in attendance and enlivened the proceedings.

The 1939 convention of the Pacific Northwest jurisdiction will be held in Boise, Idaho, on the day preceding the grand convention of the Imperial Palace gathering which is also scheduled for that city during the latter part of August. It is expected that the Imperial Palace gathering will bring together 30,000 Dokkies from all parts of Canada already under way to send a large delegation from Victoria and the United States, and plans and other parts of the island.

Reports from delegates attending the recent Ellensburg conference showed the order in the Pacific Northwest to be in a healthy condition and experiencing a steady growth in membership, and the revival of many temples that have not been functioning in recent years.

The next regular meeting of the local temple will be held in the K. of P. Hall, Broad Street, on Monday, October 3.

Goodman-Thompson Are Both Beaten

OAKMONT GOLF CLUB, PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dick Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., playing in his first United States amateur golf championship, toppled defending titleholder Johnny Goodman, Omaha, from his throne today with a stunning 2 and 1 upset to reach the semifinals.

The gallant bid of little Joe Thompson of Hamilton, Ont., for the championship was beaten back by Pat Abbott, California movie extra, in a give-and-take struggle that went 20 holes. It was Thompson's third straight extra-hole engagement.

Edwin Kingsley of Utah and Willie Turnesa, New York, joined Chapman and Abbott, former public links champion, in tomorrow's semifinals, to be fought over the 36-hole route. Kingsley advanced with a 5 and 3 win over Chuck Harbert of Battle Creek, Mich., while Turnesa beat Chris Brinke, Detroit, 5 and 4.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg wheat futures under general liquidation early today following yesterday's five-cent advances fell 3 cents before again turning upward. At the close prices were 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 cents lower, October and November at 64, December 63 1/2 to 63 3/4, and May 67.

An easing of tension in the European political situation swept all wheat markets down 2 to 4 cents at the start today but Winnipeg prices recovered due to fairly good mill buying and outside support.

Most transactions in late stages involved spreading and inter-market dealings between Winnipeg and Chicago. Canadian export business could not be confirmed.

Liverpool closed 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 lower due to the hopes of a peaceful settlement of the Czechoslovak-Sudeten German crisis when Prime Minister Chamberlain talks with Chancellor Hitler to night. Buenos Aires at noon was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents off.

Improvement in cash wheat demand was reported with No. 2 northern grade changing hands at a fractionally better price. Nos. 2 and 3 durum spreads were one cent better near the close.

Coarse-grain dealings were spasmodic with most grains following wheat. Bottom prices were 1/2 to 3/4 cents down with recoveries noted in late stages.

PACKS GOLD BRICK IN HIP POCKET

W. B. George Howe
With First Output
From His New Mine

Casualty—carrying in his hip pocket a 55.88-ounce gold brick, W. B. George arrived at his home here from the north. He went on to Seattle where he turned the brick into the United States treasury branch, receiving for it $1,457.93 in cash, and $420 for the 10 ounces of silver which melting revealed along with the gold.

The gold came from Mr. George's Portage Gold property at Portage Inlet which he has been developing quietly during the last couple of years. During the last year he equipped the property with a mill, which began turning over this mid-summer. Mr. George himself brought out the first brick, resulting from the first few days' run. The mill is now turning out gold bricks at the rate of $6,000 to $7,000 a month. For two years a crew has been developing ore reserves for the mill for years ahead.

Mr. George gained prominence in the national mining field a decade ago when his George Gold-Copper mine on the Portland Canal area was brought by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company. A few of his friends have participated privately with him in the development of his latest mine.

Flag Presented to Ship

Acting-Mayor James Adam Welcomes Ms. Lochavon on Completing Her Maiden Voyage From London

Victoria officially welcomed the Royal Mail Lines motorship Lochavon, in port today on her maiden voyage from London, by presenting a Canadian ensign to Capt. F. Cooke, the ship's commander.

The flag presentation, which took place aboard the ship at 11 this forenoon, was made by Acting-Mayor James Adam, in the absence from the city of Mayor Andrew McGavin. Aldermen Archie Willis and Alex. Peden, with the mayor's secretary, John Baxter, also represented the city at the function.

Acting-Mayor Adam, in making the presentation, made reference to previous similar occasions and said he considered it an honor to be able to present a Canadian ensign to Capt. Cooke, his officers and men, on behalf of the City of Victoria. It was with great pleasure that he extended official greetings and the hand of fellowship.

Capt. Cooke replied briefly, thanking the city on behalf of his officers and men and assuring the city delegation that the flag would be flown from his ship's masthead whenever it visited this port.

The ceremony aboard the Lochavon was attended by a large group of citizens representative of the maritime activities and public life of the port.

Robert W. Mayhew, M.P., and Acting-Mayor Adam proposed the health of Capt. Cooke and success to the Lochavon at a buffet luncheon served in the ship's forward lounge.

Others attending the official reception on board the ship included Duncan McBride, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce; G. H. Stevens, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau; George I. Warren, publicity commissioner; Commander Charles Beard, officer in charge of the Esquimalt Dockyard; C. H. French, J. J. Johnson, Walter Miles, Austin Curtis, Kenneth Drury, George A. Yardley, collector of customs; William M. Allan, Harry Douglas, J. A. Heritage, Harold Diggon, Ernie Harris, Leslie Osborne, Frank Waring and Norman Foster.

Adam P. Moffat, general agent for Royal Mail Lines, and George Paulin welcomed the visitors at the head of the gangway.

The Lochavon made quarantine at 4 this morning and berthed at Pier 1, Rithet Docks, at 7.

Capt. Cooke reported a splendid voyage out from London via Panama. "We never extend a new ship," he said in stating that the speed out was 12 1/2 knots. "She made 18.7 on her trials and when the engines have been shaken down she will be able to make up to 18 knots."

The Lochavon, after discharging and unloading here, cleared at 2 this afternoon for Vancouver.

reached only by rail express service, shipments originating at or destined to off-rail line station will be assessed rail rates for the haul and air rates for the distance covered by plane.

TYPE OF GOODS

In so far as the shipper is concerned air express will be no more complicated than the familiar railway express, it was pointed out. Shipments will be handled by a well-established organization; free pickup and delivery service and c.o.d. arrangements will be the same as they are on the railway. Packages will require only ordinary packing. All articles of merchandise, machine parts, samples, cut flowers, advertising and printing materials, publications, documents, valuable papers, motion picture reels, perishable goods which will not cause damage to articles with which they come in contact, will be accepted as in railway express, as well as bonds, bullion currency, coin, securities, precious stones and jewelry, and live freight may be accepted when special arrangements are made.

Acids, explosives, inflammables, and extremely fragile articles will not be carried. Charges will be made on gross weight at the time of shipment. Packages may be up to 200 pounds in weight and with a girth of 106 inches. Special arrangements may be made for larger parcels or those of unusual shape.

The express will be carried in specially designed compartments under the cabins of the planes. These are convenient and quickly accessible for loading and unloading.

With the inauguration of the service next week, Mr. Bellerose said the Canadian National Express will be the first express company in Canada to extend its operations to long distance plane flights.

When the Trans-Canada Air Lines goes into complete operation, the service will be transcontinental.

Snag Struck In Negotiations

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Negotiations between C.I.O. longshoremen and the Waterfront Employers' Association struck a snag yesterday when they apparently had been sailing smoothly toward a final agreement.

Union representatives withdrew from a meeting as a result of a disagreement over the wording of a clause regulating the use of liftboards.

The longshore contract expires September 30. There were indications that an effort would be made, possibly today, to arrange another conference.

How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, a doctor's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from MacFarlane's Vancouver Drug Co. Stores, or any drugstore, a package of Hemoroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemoroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

NEW TONNAGE IN PORT TODAY—At sun-up this morning Ms. Lochavon, above, newest addition to Royal Mail Lines North Pacific Coast service, reached Victoria on her maiden trip from London. The last word in ship construction in the combination refrigerator freight and limited passenger type, Lochavon has a length between perpendiculars of 470 feet, molded beam 66 feet, molded depth 41 feet, register tonnage 9,200, deadweight 10,200 and a service speed of 16 knots.

New York Papers
Say Visit to Hitler
Influences Whole World

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times, in an editorial that called Prime Minister Chamberlain's visit to Germany "breath-taking" and "startling," said today that should it fail "the immediate consequences are unpredictable, but never will war guilt have been more firmly or more dramatically fixed."

"Viewed as a final peace move, a supreme effort to save mankind from the horror of another war, it takes on the epic quality of a magnificent gamble for the highest stake in the world," the paper said.

"No doubt Mr. Chamberlain figures that by this appeal he is giving Hitler the victory that will enable him to accept a peaceful solution of the Sudeten question with more prestige than he could win by the successful use of violence."

"So indeed he does, but the stake the Prime Minister risks is his own prestige and the prestige of Britain. The world can only wait in hope that it will not be played in vain. Every other development in a thickening crisis is now only background for the momentous conference at Berchtesgaden."

FIXES RESPONSIBILITY

The Herald Tribune said: "No man of goodwill... will not be profoundly thankful that Mr. Chamberlain has brushed precedent aside and forgotten any foolish question of pride or etiquette in order to bring the responsibility for the Czech crisis squarely into the hands which wield the real authority."

"The situation is incomparably dramatic, as a single airplane roars away through the fogs of England bearing the angularly civilian Prime Minister to the military mystic as he sits, enshrouded by his own kind of fogs, upon his lovely mountain top at Berchtesgaden."

"But one can only wish there had been airplanes of an equal power in July, 1914, and wonder by how much history might have been changed if Grey and Asquith could have had a similarly dramatic hour's face-to-face with the Kaiser and his advisers on the last occasion when a world was crumbling..."

"Mr. Chamberlain, in a time of the direct and statesmanlike nearly desperate crisis, has made move, and hundreds of millions must hope for its success."
